LIFE SENTENCE JAS. COSGROVE CASE IS UPHOLD

Last Chapter Written in Refusal to Submit Probation

Appellate Court Affirms
Judgment Superior Court

The long legal battle to overturn the life sentence imposed in 1917 on James Cosgrove, former Fresno bar tender, for the killing of Mrs. Annabelle Smith, his mother-in-law, has ended in vain.

Judge J. S. Austin in superior court yesterday wrote the last chapter in the bitterly contested case by denying the motion of Attorney George D. Collins, Jr., for the defense for the reference for the second time of an application for probation.

The attorney held the crime was so near the border of a legal charge of manslaughter that he thought the clemency of the court might be properly exercised. He indicated the plan for referring the application was the last desperate attempt of the defense, asserting that in the event of an adverse recommendation from the probation officer the case would be dropped.

The court took up the contention raised and expressed the conviction in view of his entire familiarity with the evidence, the crime was one of first degree murder. He also indicated an inclination to override a recommendation for clemency from the probation officer, should the matter be re-referred.

The appellate court in an opinion handed down on Sept. 28, rejected the appeal of the defense from the judgment imposed by the superior court holding that the evidence established the crime as first degree murder.

The court found that inasmuch as the degree of the crime had been determined at the time of the original imposition of sentence the taking of evidence for a renewed determination with the final judgment was unnecessary.

The appellant argued that the right for a withdrawal of a plea of guilty was conferred solely on the defendant and that the trial court erred in not granting such an application as a matter of course. The upper court held the withdrawal was a matter of discretion with the trial court inasmuch as being mandatory and automatic.

Cosgrove was arrested in March, 1917, after he had shot and killed Mrs. Smith and had attempted to take his own life. On May 8 he withdrew his plea for one of guilty and was sentenced to serve the remainder of his natural life in prison.

Early this year of 1926 Cosgrove had served two years of his sentence, the claim of Attorney Collins that the original proceedings were defective inasmuch as Cosgrove had not been re-arrested before sentence, was recognized and the minutes vacated and corrected.

Before sentence was re-imposed an application for probation was presented and was rejected, resulting in an adverse recommendation by Probation Officer H. A. Sessions. With the pronouncement of the new sentence notice of appeal was given.

PEOPLE ALL-POWERFUL

Even the American missionaries in Japan are addressing their protests against the proposed California legislation to Secretary of State Colby and to Governor Stephens. They should know our system better. They should realize that a proposed action of the people of California can only be protected to the people of California. In their unorganized, ungovernable capacity. Neither the government of the United States nor the government of California has anything to do with it. This matter was not referred to the people by either government, and no government has any power or jurisdiction over this action of the people. If the proposed law is unjust, as the Japanese think, or merely an absurd futility, as we think, an argument to that effect, distributed among the voters of California individually, might or might not affect the votes of some of them. But they will decide those votes, each for himself, and when the majority vote is cast, the law is the law, beyond the power of government to suspend, amend, or even to negotiate about it. It is the act of the people, not of the government, but it binds all the officers of government, beyond any power to dispense them of that obligation. Japanese can not understand this degree of power residing directly in the people and beyond the control of government, but American missionaries should know it.

HOME BREW

The confusion over the various "home brew" regulations is doubtless due to the fact that some things must be done practically which must not be acknowledged theoretically. In strict theory, any sort of manufacture of alcoholic beverages by anybody anywhere is illegal. In practice, it would be a greater evil to search everybody's home and station a watchman in everybody's cellar than it would be to overlook some illegal private brewing. So the authorities do the practical thing, but their formal statements must be based on the theoretical thing. This is the first regulation regarding home-made wine were to the effect that householders for their personal use, might ferment an intoxicating beverage provided it was not intoxicating. The new rule is stricter. It announces that they must not brew home brew unless they brew it at home, and that domestic consumption must be domestically consumed. Both statements, of course, are meaningless. The thing that is meant must not be said, but no interference is proposed with the doing of it. Only you must infer what is meant, and take the consequences if you guess wrong.

The surest way to guess wrong is to assume that you have any rights in the matter at all. For, if you have a right, you thereby have also the other rights necessary to its exercise. If you have the right to have liquor in your home, you have also the right to have it in your hotel or club, if your home is there. If you have the right to brew drinks in your cellar, you have a right to buy apparatus to do it, and to keep it there. If you have the right to have grapes crushed into grape juice at a winery, you have the right to ferment in your cellar, you have the right to transport that grape juice to your cellar, even if the fermentation has started before it leaves the winery. And if you have a right to give wine to your friends, they have a right to carry it home. If the first of either of these pairs is a right, the second follows. But if the first is merely an overlooked wrong, then no other rights can be inferred from it. If the law winks at certain small violations, merely because the process of watching them would involve a greater evil than overlooking them, it does not follow that there is a vested right to have those evils overlooked when they become large, or when they attach to themselves other adjunct evils which would not be separately tolerated.

So the thing to remember is that there is no legal right to manufacture home brew at all. The production of any sort of intoxicating liquor, anywhere, by any process, for any but the legally specified purposes, is illegal. Home brew, for home consumption, of anything containing more than one-half per cent of alcohol, is against the law. Transporting or selling it is against the law. But breaking into people's houses, without a search warrant, is also against the law, and the securing of search warrants, where only a small quantity is made, for strictly home use, and not for sale or for distribution to the neighbors, is against present administrative policy. So the right is not to make the home brew, but to be exempt from this particular method of preventing it. And this exemption does not extend to cases of abuse of this privilege, nor to any auxiliary things which may be necessary or convenient to its exercise. For "home brew" is not a right, but a conveniently overlooked wrong.

MEDIOCRITIES OF THE PAST

Those who profess discouragement at the present political situation are frequently reminded that we have had mediocre presidents in the past, and that they did no more harm than some of the strong presidents.

Without seeking to write a history of the United States in three hundred words, a brief retrospect of this tradition may be interesting, especially as showing how presidential standards have come in groups.

Prior to Andrew Jackson, in 1830, the presidents were gentlemen of the old school, most of them able and all cultivated men. Jackson was of course a man of tremendous power, who did as much good and as much harm as any man in American history. He was followed by Van Buren and Harrison, both men of distinction, though below the Jackson rank, and by Tyler, an accident raised to the presidency by Harrison's death. Then came the era of cowardice and mediocrity, between the Mexican and the Civil war, which side-stepped everything and made the Civil War inevitable. While Webster, Clay and Calhoun, and others only less than they, were the giants of American statesmanship, the presidents were Polk, Taylor, Fillmore, Pierce and Buchanan, then whom no smaller men ever occupied conspicuous place. Then came the sudden appearance of Lincoln, one of the supreme figures in the history of mankind. Johnson, who followed him, was an insignificant accident. Grant, while a bungling president, had at least the record of having been a great soldier. Hayes was mediocre. Garfield was a brilliant man, who died too soon to make a record as president. Arthur, who automatically succeeded him, was chiefly distinguished as the first president whose trousers did not bag at the knees. Then came the modern era, covering most of the memory of most of us, in which we have had not a single weak man, and two very great ones. Cleveland was a man of strength, who looms larger as the latter controversies of his time recede. Harrison was a man of annoying personality but very unusual intellect. McKinley was a man of remarkable personality and of good but not great intellect. Roosevelt of course was a tremendous genius. Taft was a man who made a brilliant success of everything but the presidency, and will personally rank high in history. Finally Wilson is a man of real though limited genius who will probably rank in ability next after Washington, Lincoln, Roosevelt and Jackson, and in conspicuousness of achievement even with the first of these.

Now, after thirty-six years of strong men, and after twenty years, fifteen of which were filled by great men, we come down again to the Pierce and Fillmore class. And we do it, as was done in their era, by purposely side-stepping great issues, purposely shirking a great crisis, and purposely picking small men to do nothing, when great men are available and there are great things for them to do. When our grandfathers did this, they nearly destroyed the nation, and were only saved by the leadership of one great genius. Let us hope that we are not risking destroying the world, or that, if we do precipitate that crisis, another Lincoln may be vouchsafed to save the world.

BORAH MAY CLARIFY SITUATION

Whatever there is behind the Borah ruction, it may turn out to be something that will justify those who have reserved their decision until the situation clarifies itself. It has been the plan of Borah and Johnson to commit Harding irrevocably to their irreconcilable position on the League of Nations. It has been the effort of Taft, Hoover and other notable leaders, to bring Harding to standing by his own record. Now comes Root back from Europe with a plan, half of which Harding has endorsed. That half is both unworkable and unthinkable without the other half, but if Harding accepts that other half he thereby does the exact thing which Borah and Johnson are determined he shall not do. Instead of "scrapping the league" he will have saved it. If Borah is afraid that Root will influence Harding into doing this, and if, by forcing the issue, he can bring Harding either to do it or to refuse to do it, he may so clarify the issue as to make it definitely possible or impossible for pro-League Republicans to support Harding. Most of them, if this issue can either be put out of the campaign or brought acceptably into it, would prefer on other grounds to do so. They do not have to be made enthusiastic for Harding. Nobody, except a few self-hypnotized politicians, is that. He merely has to be made endurable. If Borah can find him conclusively unendurable, that may make him endurable to the majority who do not agree with Borah.

WE CAN AFFORD IT, BUT WILL WE?

Where is the value of a thing—in the thing, or in your mind? Economists differ, but the best opinion seems to be that it is both. In other words, a thing is worth whatever people think it is worth, but their thinking depends at least in some degree on the facts. For instance, it is only once in a while that a freak tulip bulb is worth a thousand florins, because it is the fact, or a beautiful ostrich plume is worth nothing because it is out of style. Sometimes the thought over-rides the facts or the facts over-dominate the thought, but normally the two are reasonably together. Most things are about as desired as they are desirable.

The ups and downs of prices recently have evidently been at least as much mental as they have been substantial. Sugar may have gone up because it was scarce and gone down because it became plenty, but most things went up because people would stand for it and now they are going down because people will no longer stand for it. It is a state of mind. A little while ago nobody asked the price nor cared. Now they do ask the price, and care. So the Federal Reserve Board reports that prices are going down on account of "a more exacting demand by the buying public as to price, and quality."

One of the interesting experiment grounds as to this interaction of facts and feeling will be Fresno. For, on the facts, Fresno is exceptional, but in thought we are all sleep-like. Our bankers change their policies not so much on business facts in Fresno as on what their correspondents tell them are mental facts in New York. Merchants overbuy or underbuy on their information as to what New York thinks will be the mental attitude of customers in Keokuk. And Fresno buyers are careful or reckless, not so much according to the money they have, as according to the general emotional atmosphere of the country, based largely on the money other people have elsewhere.

Now, the prospects in Fresno are that, whatever reason for a thrift movement there may be elsewhere, there will be none here. If we want to be extravagant, we can afford to be. If we choose to be thrifty, it will be because it is fashionable, not because it is necessary. Probably we shall compromise somewhere between the national psychology and the local facts. But it will be an interesting—and we may hope a profitable—experiment.

Forty Years Ago Today:

At Kingsburg, Tenn. J. W. Elder delivered an eloquent address at Kingsburg, Wednesday evening, to an audience of about one hundred and fifty persons, a large proportion of them voters. The stand was upon the eastern veranda of Devere's Hotel, seats being arranged to front the hotel, and chairs being provided upon the veranda and immediately in front for the ladies. The Kingsburg club at Kingsburg sang several patriotic airs in a most creditable manner, and the presence of so many ladies seemed to be recognized as a bar to any boisterous demonstrations. Strict attention was paid to everything said, and the most perfect decorum was observed throughout the meeting.

More Truth Than Poetry

MENTAL HAZARDS

You can walk a rail that is nailed firmly to the floor without flinching. You know that if you fall off you can't fall more than three inches.

Stretch the same rail between two skyscrapers, and if you try to walk you will get nervous. The distance is only a few feet, but the effect on your mind is different.

The second rail would be a mental hazard, and a mental hazard is what takes the joy out of golf.

Designers of golf courses work with two purposes. One is to supply caddies with rich mines out of which to dig golf balls when mild evenings weep over the sea and all the members of the grounds committee have gone home for the day.

This other is to supply preachers with something to do to save lost souls after prohibition, race track gambling laws, and all summary legislation have removed the ordinary snares from the pathway of man kind.

As long as there are mental hazards on golf courses, there will be souls to be saved. And without a lot of concentration and energy on the part of the clergy many of these souls will go for the day.

The golf course engineer is as wise as any carpenter or mason there is to know about the short comings of human nature.

He always places the first tee within easy viewing and distance of the clubhouse, so that the player is certain to get a bad start.

For perhaps the worst mental hazard of the whole golf course is a porch full of rubbering people who you know are making sardonic comments on your costume, your style, and the little foolish drive with which you always begin.

I have seen strong men weep as soon as they get out of sight of the commentators, after they had swung cleanly at a ball and merely spilled it off the tee. It isn't what the spectators said, although that is bad enough. It's what the player thinks they said that ruins the rest of the day and most of the rest of the month for him.

I have seen patient, quiet men, who wouldn't lose their self-possession in a ship wreck, or harbor murder, at a golf club. After they have thrown their clubs on the ground and jump on their feet every last club in the bag had been broken to shivers.

And all because they had driven a ball at right angles instead of straight ahead, and lost it forever and ever.

Without an audience these things would not be disturbing. But the most brazen human being is sensibly afraid of a crowd and a crowd is his first piece. And the man that plays the golf course knows that and takes a splendid delight in arranging things so the audience will be provided.

After you have rolled the ball around the corner and away from the clubhouse you begin to feel a little easier. That is a part of the designer's plan. He makes the next few fairways wide and the hazards narrow. If he didn't you would get right there and the ancient game of golf would be played only by professionals.

You make the next two or three with a score that is fairly satisfactory to yourself and the wounds to your pride inflicted at the start begin to heal.

Then you come to another mental hazard. It may be a bunker that is cunningly placed so you can't possibly drive over it and so you are pretty certain to land the ball exactly in the trench in front of it.

That is all prearranged too. The man who laid out the course knows that you can't help trying to get over the bunker even when you know you can't do it. This insures your getting the ball into the trench, instead of landing it half way out.

CALCUTTA SHORT OF HOMES NOW

So acute is the housing shortage in Calcutta, India, that work has been started on two camps on the outskirts of the city, where the homeless will be put up in tents or in huts if possible. Arrangements are being made to cater to the occupants of the camps at a moderate price, and every effort is being made to keep the charges as low as possible. "Houses" in Calcutta are ideal and life in the camps will not be a great hardship.

Plans for the construction of the camps were precipitated by the news that the Prince of Wales might visit the city. This would bring thousands of visitors to the city, and it was feared that the organized working class and socialist movements of the nation lately at war with each other, international unity was shattered when the war broke out, and the feelings of indignation, entertained especially by Belgium and France, against the German Social Democratic party for its failure to break with the imperialist German government, that was violating the independence of Belgium and committing such terrible misdeeds against civilians, have bitterly prevented any formal reconciliation. After six years the breach is now healed. The Belgian delegates supported by every nationality was strongly repudiated. In the committee a few different speeches were made; the German delegates made a manly confession of their failure, and expressed their sincere regret that they had been misled; and an affecting scene of new clubs, and do it all over again, and still over. For the whole game is a mental hazard, and the man who invented it knew it.

They will have a good deal to answer for in the future. We devoutly hope that as a penalty they are forced to spend an eternity among the mental hazards they so diabolically designed for others.

Twa Mouthfu's o' Naething

Well sir, folk,
There'll be blues
Now and again
When I incline tae think
Thot in the days
O' auld lang syne
They hed some virtues
Thot we lack noowadays.
Take, just fir instance,
Thot auld sayin'
Thot wes sac' popular
In the splendit era
When a reel nose
And an unpaid grocery bill
Wes the sign and token
O' a gentleman;
Thot word o' wisdom
Quoted bae monny
Picked noblemen;
"It takes siller
Fir tae buy whiskey."
Take thot fir instance
And fetch tae mind
Hoo earnestly
It wuld be said
And wi whit fervor
Lads wuld engross themselves
In hard labor
Fir tae make the siller
Tae lay in the paint
Fir nose colorin'.
Mornin', noon and nicht
They'd labor awa'
Wiout onny thoct
O' tryin' tae obtain it
Wiout siller,
But in these late days
We say tae oorsel'
Thot it takes siller
Tae buy education
And then we invest
In a super-flivver,

Or some such necessity,
And forget a' aboot it.
"Education is a pearl!"
Say we tae oorsel's,
"Yont a' price!"
And oor young
And risin' generations
Mann drink deep
Or taste no
The Perian springs!"
It's an education in itself
Jist tae hear us rave
Aboot education
And the life-lang benefits
O' a time at college
And the whole time
Thot we're runnin' on
Aboot these here matters
We ken nitchy weel
Thot doon at Berkeley
At the State University
We dinna hae eneuch roon

SOCIALIST GROUPS ARE RECONCILED

The main achievement of the Socialist International Congress recently held at Geneva, Switzerland, was the reconciliation of the European working class and Socialist movements no longer to permit themselves to be divided in the pursuit of their common aims. This reunion of hearts will be of political importance in European politics. It greatly increases the difficulty that the statesmen will have in restoring the war, under any pretext. European unity is again a power to be counted with. The weapon of an international strike of miners and transport workers against any further occupation of Germany (such as the Ruhr district) or against any extensive military intervention in defense of the insane megamania of the Polish government, becomes a possibility to be reckoned with. Sidney Webb, the well known British economist, in the New Republic.

NEW FALL APPAREL

Attractive in Styles and Price

We have assembled a most attractive assortment of new Fall apparel for women, and we urge you to come and see them, for only in that way will you be able to appreciate the tremendous values that are represented.

New Coats

$35 to $69.75

You will find all the newest styles and materials represented in this line of new coats—bustles, dusters, broadcloths, etc., some are fur trimmed, others plain, and in such a wide range of color that you can find the color you want in the style that is becoming; these are priced at $35, $39.75, $49.75, $55 and $69.75.

New Suits

$39.75 to $95

The suits comprise the very newest and most popular styles. Many of them are fur trimmed—others are fashioned on the more-fitted lines. Broadcloths, velvets and tricotines are used extensively; the colors are blues, browns and greys. The suits are priced at $39.75, $49.75, $55 and $95.

New Dresses

$19.75 to $75

A big showing is made in Fall dresses, both in the silks and the wools. At prices that range from $19.75, $24.75, $29.75, $39.75 and up to $75, you will find many handsome models. Both in the silks and the wools, dresses featuring embroidery are used extensively—although there are many charming models made in less elaborate styles. The season's most popular colors are shown.

Jersey Sport

Jackets

$14.95

Here is a value that is truly remarkable; an excellent quality Jersey jacket in the popular Turf style at a price that is far less than what you would expect to pay. All the good colors are shown.

ANOTHER DISCOVERER OF AMERICA FOUND

Jon Skolp, Norwegian,
Sixteen Years Ahead
of Columbus

Jon Skolp, a Norwegian, discovered America before Christopher Columbus.

The latest addition to the line of documents by Jon Skolp, a Norwegian, who has recently made a reprint founded on researches of archives of the middle ages, has completed a work which he says proves that Skolp, the Norwegian, discovered America in 1476, 16 years before Columbus.

In an old Spanish geographical work on America, first published in 1552 by Francisco Lopez de Gomara, a priest of Segovia, it is mentioned that Labrador was reached for the first time by Norwegian sailors, piloted by John Skolp. This information was first made public by the Norwegian professor of history, Gustav Storm in 1856. But at that time this part of the history of the discoverer was still in its infancy, and isolated. It was then, the information naturally had to be used with great caution. Later on new material was found pointing in the same direction. One of the sources was a famous globe, dating from 1477 and made by the Dutch physician and mathematician, Gemma Frisius, who points out that North America was reached in 1476 by Johannes Sculvus.

position for thirty miles and then his first tire trouble of the race occurred, and sent him to the pits in the 10th circuit. Coming out in fifth position, he crawled up to fourth and then third and was making a dash for the flag when Murphy sent his car across the line a winner.

Two drivers in the race yesterday sent their cars through the 200 miles of testing speed without a stop. They were Joe Thomas, who sent number 11 into fifth place after driving a wonderfully consistent and steady race never falling below fifth position, and Gaston Chevrolet, Indianapolis winner, who sent number 3 after the flying field and never stopped although seventh marked the bottom of his descent.

De Palma's Spectacular Drive.
The rush of Ralph De Palma from his position at the last of the string of nine racing creations to the lead was the sensation of the early part of the race. De Palma sent his car around the oval at a tremendous speed. When the first lap was completed he had seventh position, on the second lap he was in fifth place and when the cars came around on the third time with O'Donnell and Murphy fighting neck and neck for the lead, he was in third place although some distance behind with Milton, close on the rear wheels of his flying monster. Four miles away in third place and the race was on with O'Donnell leading in number 9, Murphy's number 12 second and De Palma roaring close behind. Meanwhile number 11, driven by Joe Thomas was crawling up over the field with Hearn, the dirt track champion trailing last but he was not content and after his competitors at Syracuse he dashed the field being separated in numbers 8, 12 and 2, leading and the rest trailing about three-eighths of a mile behind. Going into the curve on the tenth lap, De Palma passed Murphy and when the cars finished the tenth mile, he was in second place fighting with O'Donnell and gradually creeping up while Joe Thomas had secured fourth place though some distance behind, going into the fourteenth lap, De Palma wrested the lead from the Los Angeles champion and the cars were in the following order: 2, 9, 12, 11, 1, 10, 3 and 15. Series in number 16 and 17 in 3 were almost neck and neck, Series taking the lead in the next mile.

In the fifteenth mile, De Palma increased his lead and the field was again bunched into two divisions with De Palma, O'Donnell and Murphy bunched and leading and Thomas leading. The second division with Hearn last. On the 15th circuit the three leaders were beginning to lap the straggling field and on the nine-

NO VERDICT IN WIFE MURDER

SAN LEUIS OBISPO, Calif., Oct. 2.—The jury in the trial of J. T. Marsh on a charge of having murdered his wife, Lillian T. Marsh, reported late today that they were unable to agree and were discharged. They had not yet heard of the Marsh was accused of shooting and killing her in a quarrel over an automobile.

ONLY ONE BID FOR SHIPPING SUPPLIES

PORTLAND, Ore., Oct. 2.—H. B. Miller, director of the Pacific Coast division of the supply and sales department of the shipping board, today announced that only one bid was received yesterday for the purchase of materials remaining around in the shipyards of the Pacific Coast district and that he had telegraphed to Washington requesting that the bid be held in abeyance and the time for other bids extended. The action was taken after other firms who desired to bid for the materials had protested the closing of the deal at this time on the ground that specifications for the materials were not sufficiently definite. It was said the approximate value of materials on hand at Tacoma is $1,000,000, at Seattle $1,000,000 and at Portland $1,000,000.

COLLEGE SPRINGS, (Calif.), Oct. 2.—More than 1,000 members of the Western Hunt, Hobbies' Association are expected to be here for the convention of the organization, which will be held during the week of October 10-14, according to members of the local club. Plans are being made here to care for delegates from the other states. The officers of the association have sent a letter to the 1,300 members, telling them of the possibilities of the Pacific Coast section in Japan.

The National Association of Game Warden Merchants and the National Game Warden Association will meet here at the same time, because of mutual interests.

WILLING TO MEET TENDLER
MILWAUKEE, Oct. 2.—Joe Willing of Chicago and Lew Tendler of Philadelphia were matched today to meet in a ten round bout here on October 25.

Explains Cost to District If Students Are Irregular

By Delbert Brunton, Principal Fresno High School.

The attendance in the high school is not as regular as one could wish for a considerable number of students have acquired the habit of coming late and leaving early. I am seeking to have this habit replaced by a better one of coming on time and remaining till the proper time to go home. I wish the co-operation of the parents of the high school students to attain this end.

It is to the interest of every taxpayer in the district that pupils attend school regularly and promptly. The fixing of regular habits of promptness and obedience to law and authority is the most important factor to be considered. But there are other considerations of a nature to make a more immediate appeal.

A pupil staying out of school loses instruction. If the work is ever made up, the teacher must repeat what was given during the absence of that pupil. Thus the time and energy of the teacher is used up with little or no advantage. As the teachers have but a limited amount of time and energy, it follows that when a few claim the time and attention, the many cannot have it. Of course, in cases of sickness or really unavoidable absence it is right that the pupil should have the opportunity for the instruction. However, the pupil who absents himself from school without just cause forfeits this right.

Then there is the money side to be considered. We get from the state $15 and from the county $15 per pupil for average daily attendance for the year. The school year is made up of 180 days. Therefore for each school day of attendance for each pupil the city of Fresno district draws from the state and county the sum of 77 1/2 cents. For each period missed, one-fourth of a school day is lost. The periods of tardiness are added together to make up days of absence, so that any absence or coming counts in the loss.

Suppose that a pupil in the school should accomplish a total of ten days absence. (This is very easily accomplished, too.) We now have 140 pupils in the school. Each pupil would lose the district $7.75. The

Religious School to Be Opened Today

The regular sessions of the religious school of Temple Beth Israel will begin this morning with classes in the Parlor League club. For the first time in the history of the local Sabbath school, a kindergarten class will be opened with Mrs. Leon Hart in charge. The primary class which will study the heroes of the Bible from Abraham to Moses will be conducted by Miss Lillian Mittenhalt. The intermediate class covering the outline of biblical history from Joshua and the entrance into the Promised Land to the Exile will be led by Miss Frances Goldstein. The junior class under Rabbi Segal will take up the heroes of Jewish history from the Exile to the present day.

Mr. McCay entertained a few friends at a dinner party in honor of the birthday of her daughter, Mrs. Maurine McCay Scott and her son, T. Hugh McCay of Fellows.

Mrs. McCay, who has recently returned from the south, where she was for the benefit of her health, is very much in favor of the Murietta Hot Springs, where she spent three weeks, being much benefited by the bathing, returned to Los Angeles enjoying a few weeks there and camping with some friends from the East and at Santa Monica Beach.

Individuals and elements engaged will be compiled into a single report, and motorists throughout the west are waiting eagerly for its appearance. Some revealing facts will be made known when it finally appears, according to Mr. Lippincott.

Better roads for the future. It is hoped, will be the result.

FOUR DRIVERS MAKE TRIP OF 8000 MILES

HONOLULU, T. H., Sept. 10.—(By Mail.)—Four United States submarines, H-11, H-12, H-13 and H-14, arrived at Pearl Harbor recently from New London, Connecticut, after an 8,000 mile trip, which naval officers here assert is the longest voyage ever undertaken by a submarine flotilla without a mother ship. Lieutenant Commander C. S. Alden, aboard H-11, was division commander.

The submarine flotilla left the Atlantic coast June 30, reached Bermuda July 3, left there twelve days later and reached San Juan, Porto Rico on July 19. After an eight-day stop the flotilla continued the cruise of Kingston, Jamaica, which they reached in six days. After a stay there they proceeded to Panama where they tied up for two weeks and started July 26 for San Pedro, California, reaching that port August 1.

Priced On the New Lowered Factory Costs

By making your selection of Fall Shoes at this store you are assured of the benefit of the decline in factory costs. During the past 15 days we have received from our manufacturers very decisive price reductions on all orders placed for mid-summer and fall footwear.

These orders are now at hand and we have marked these shoes to conform to the NEW LOWERED FACTORY COSTS.

These new prices affect practically every pair of shoes in our stock—making our values strictly in accord with the present market. This policy will be carried out right along—We will at all times remark our stock to conform to the new costs and market quotations, thus guaranteeing our customers the advantage of every decline in prices.

This policy will in no way affect the quality—or style of our shoes—It will mean that you will get the finest, most fashionable, most distinctive footwear at this store at the lowest possible cost.

FIRST BOOTH ERECTED FOR THE JEWISH FEAST OF TABERNACLES

Picture of first Succoth, or Tabernacle erected by the local Jewish community in celebration of the festival of Tabernacles, the Jewish week of Thanksgiving.

Inside the booth are the seven-branched candelsticks used on festive occasions. The Ark of the Law is seen in the rear, the cover of which is decorated with the six-pointed star, or "Shield of David" and above are the Hebrew letters of the Ineffable Name of God. The Hebrew words across the shield mean the "Crown of the Law."

The religious school of Temple Beth Israel celebrated the festival of Succoth, or Tabernacles, which is the Jewish week of Thanksgiving, with a children's harvest service at the Parlor Lecture club last Sunday night. The features of the observance were the palm procession as conducted in ancient Israel, when the people made their annual pilgrimage to the Holy City of Jerusalem, carrying branches of the four species, and cover of the tabernacle, presenting the four periods of Jewish history to the present day and the Messianic future, and the offerings of products of the harvest by the various classes of the Sabbath school.

AEOLIAN-VOCALION

I AM a business woman, secretary to one of the giants of finance in the Wall Street district. Years of training for just the kind of a position I now hold lie behind me. Throughout the daylight hours my brain is keyed to respond to—anticipate if I can, the mental workings of my employer. In the evening I must relax. Even reading is often too much of an effort.

Consequently, when a friend phoned me the other afternoon, asking me to come to her for the evening, saying something about a 'surprise' and 'some good music,' I assented laconically and then wished I hadn't.

"As my friend opened the door that evening in answer to my ring, I heard a tenor voice of surpassing sweetness singing my favorite Scotch Ballad 'Bonnie Sweet Bessie, the Maid of Duodee'.

How glad I am now, that I went!

"Colin O'More, the new Irish tenor, was my friend's reply to my inquiring glance. 'Oh, not in person—but his voice, true to the life; and the voices of several others you know of—are here too—and the vehicle that has brought them all is this—she led me into her little living-room—allow me to introduce you to my new Aeolian-Vocalion.'

"And my own Vocalion has given me hours and hours of nerve-soothing harmony—evenings of delightful music have been mine from that time to this."

"I stood still, listening delightedly, my weariness charmed away by the beautiful music. The wonderful naturalness of the tones—the distinctness with which I could hear every word, swept aside in a moment the prejudice I had always felt toward phonograph music."

"When my friend played 'The Swan' of Saint Saëns, a Vocalion Record by Maurice Dambois, cellist, and by the manipulation of a simple-looking attachment called the Graduola, almost put me to sleep by a lovely, unmuffled pianissimo effect that I had never dreamed could come from a phonograph. I came to a prompt decision!"

VOCALION FEATURES

TONE—Due to the advanced and more scientific construction, the Vocalion produces richer, deeper, more beautiful and more natural tones than have hitherto been heard from the phonograph.

TONE CONTROL—The Graduola, the artistic and exclusive tone-controlling feature of the Vocalion, enables the performer to shade and color the music as he will. It enables anyone to participate in the playing of the record, to give voice to his own musical ideas, to prevent monotony by slight changes in the record's stereotyped expression.

MECHANICAL PERFECTION—The Automatic Stop on the Vocalion is an example of the perfection in mechanical detail characterizing this instrument. Simple, direct and absolutely dependable, this device is the most satisfactory of its kind yet invented.

UNIVERSAL TONE-ARM—This great feature provides the means by which every make record can be played upon the Vocalion.

RED MEN ENJOY DOVE FEED HERE

Lodge Plans Membership Campaign; Announce Captains

Over seventy members of the local tribe of Red Men met Friday night for the regular meeting and to attend the dove feed which followed in the banquet hall of the W. O. W. building, with an entertainment later in the lodge room.

At the meeting, a committee composed of W. H. Budge, M. W. Rydberg and H. R. Simpson, were appointed to assist the Red Cross in its annual roll call, which will take place sometime in November. Final preparations for the membership campaign were announced, the tribe being divided into fifteen teams, with the captain of each team accountable to the general committee on membership. P. C. Cobby was named chairman of the captains and the following were named to take charge of the teams: H. Rydberg, F. Buckley, W. B. Budge, L. Hill, C. A. Kleinhorst, W. J. Knight, A. J. Meyer, J. L. Nichols, M. Pickering, H. Townsend, M. W. Tibbets, O. T. Shurkey, J. E. Palmer and M. Sullivan. Competition will be encouraged among the teams and awards will be made to the winners. The adoption degree was given to the first candidates of the season. The next initiation will probably be held some time in November, when a large class is expected, as the membership drive will be in action by that time.

BERNE, Switzerland, Oct. 2.—The Swiss majority socialist party has decided not to become a member of the Third International at the Moscow conference, but to remain independent under the conditions laid down by the soviets. It was announced today following Sunday's announcement that the Swiss government would not open political or commercial relations with soviet Russia. The government's action was taken after the Swiss Union of Commerce and Industry had been consulted.

SIOUX CITY, Ia., Oct. 2.—Stockholders of the Midland Packing company last night unanimously decided in favor of collecting outstanding subscription notes due the company to pay its indebtedness of approximately $1,000,000 and "put" the Midland back into operation. The company is in the hands of a receiver.

Senate of Hi School Has Regular Session

The Japanese question, the Irish question and the labor situation in Europe were discussed by the Fresno high school senate at its regular meeting held on Friday evening. On the Japanese question, Raybourne of Maryland advocated the complete exclusion of Japanese from the United States, and Harwood of Utah, an honorary member of the senate, who has just returned from a trip to England, told of the labor situation in the British Isles. He also spoke of the effect the disturbance in Ireland is making on England.

Walter C. Smith, former principal of the high school and an ex-president of the United States, complimented the senate on its spirit and the serious way in which the business is conducted.

The following were nominated for officers: President Donald Steinbohl, Brooks Caldwell, vice-president, Galen McKnight, Kenneth Hamilton, secretary, Hilary Raybourne, treasurer, Raymond Douglas, auditor, Bert Green, librarian, Aron Powers, Charles Nowell and Lawrence Peters, sergeant-at-arms, Louis Cuello, Franklin Sternberg, president of the United States, Charles Burns, and Kipling will take place at the next meeting.

A budget system to regulate the finances of the senate was adopted, which makes it impossible to carry a debt from one school year to another.

RED CROSS SHOP. Sales totaling $10.85 were made yesterday at the Red Cross Shop by members of the standing committee. Ladies of the First Presbyterian church will be in charge of the shop tomorrow.

W. G. T. U. TO MEET. The business meeting of the W. G. T. U. will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Y. W. C. A. roll call being answered by current events, after which important business will be transacted. All members are asked to attend.

DENVER, Oct. 2.—Mrs. R. C. Peeto, Denver woman who occupied for a time in Los Angeles a house in the basement of which the body of Jacob C. Denton was found, has disappeared from the home of Mrs. Ida L. Gregory where she had been staying in this city, according to Mrs. Gregory, who is an attaché of the Denver juvenile court. She said Mrs. Peeto had her trunk packed when she left and that she left "high up" in Los Angeles in a day or two.

MISSISSIPPI IS GOING BACK

Population Less Than It Was Ten Years Ago

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—Mississippi is the first state to show a decrease in population in the 1920 census. Its population of 1,789,152 announced today by the census bureau, is 7,822, or 4.1 per cent less than that of ten years ago.

The 1920 population of Oklahoma, Wisconsin and South Dakota also were announced and each showed a substantial increase. Oklahoma had the greatest increase, its population of 2,327,561 being 250,204 or 23.4 per cent greater than in 1910. This, however, was the smallest numerical and relative increase shown by Oklahoma since its organization as a territory in 1890.

Wisconsin's population is 2,631,425, an increase of 217,370 or 12.1 per cent as compared with that of 1910. The state retains its present rank as 13th most populous state.

South Dakota with a population of 82,429, an increase of 5,121, or 5.9 per cent; falls into 37th place, having been passed by North Dakota. The state showed both its lowest numerical and

C. H. Rowell to Speak on Japanese Question

Sunday evening services will be resumed this evening at the First Congregational church, after having been discontinued for the summer. The plan of service includes musical and informal discussions which was successful last year, will be followed again this season.

Tonight the address will be given by Chester H. Rowell, editor of the Republican. The lecturer will discuss the Japanese situation in the Hawaiian Islands and in California. The meeting will begin at 7:30 o'clock.

relative increases since its admission as a state in 1912.

Various Announcements

Arlington, Va., Jan. 15, 1921; increase 2,745 or 49.9 per cent.

Arkansas, 1,917,912; decrease 141 or 4.4 per cent.

Yuma, Ariz., 4,327; increase 1,232 or 65.4 per cent.

Mississippi, 1,789,152; decrease 7,822 or 4.1 per cent.

HIGH AWARDS FOR CHINESE LEADERS

TEKING, Sept. 26.—(By Mail).—The fall of the "Ain" clique, commonly known as the pro-Japanese party of China because of its policy with regard to the Japanese, has been a complete and irrevocable success. So complete is the collapse that the chief representatives are at the moment in hiding with prices on their heads.

For five days every avenue leading from the Legation Quarter has been watched day and night and every passer-by, Chinese or foreign, has been subject to inspection on the suspicion of being a spy or a traitor.

It is customary in Peking to post in railway stations and other public places notices containing a list of names of persons known to be pickpockets, sneak thieves or burglars. Never before, however, in the history of the Chinese republic, have notices who have been placed in the hands of the police.

This time, however, the arrests were made with care and descriptions of a half dozen of the chief political offenders, subjects of a presidential order calling for their arrest on broad charges of having been guilty of bringing about the military commotion in July and earlier. Rewards, ranging from $10,000 to $50,000 were publicly offered for their delivery into custody.

As an after thought, the photograph of one of these characters was released, General Tuan Chi-wei, because of indignity to the uniform which will prevent him in civilian garb. Similar measures are contemplated with respect to General Jan Shueh-zhang (Little Bear) who also appears in uniform. Little Bear has the reputation of being the most pretentiously wanted, to judge from the fact that his capture is the only one valued as high as $50,000. The others and rewards for their arrest are:

Tseng Yu-chun, former Minister of Communications, $20,000.

Li Shih-shan, former Minister of Finance, $10,000.

Chu Chen, former Minister of Justice, $10,000.

Liang Hung-chi, chief secretary of the senate, $10,000.

Tuan Chi-kuei, erstwhile commander-in-chief of Field-Marshal Tuan Chi-wei's enabled armies, $10,000.

Yao Chen, president of the supreme court, $10,000.

Yao Kuo-chun, vice Minister of Communications, $10,000.

A Broken Lens Is No Longer a Disaster

Because of the considerable expense incident to a broken lens, many people necessarily view an accident to their glasses in the light of a calamity.

A National Optical Service Corporation lens replacement card reduces the cost of lens breakage to a very low figure. N. O. S. C. replacement cards cost comparatively little and enable you to have your lens duplicated within a year, if broken, without any further charge.

N. O. S. C. replacement cards can be issued, no matter where or when you bought your glasses.

INTRODUCES BLOOMER SKIRT

Miss Chrissie Anderson

While in Washington recently Miss Chrissie Anderson, of Missouri, demonstrated her own design of skirt, with bloomer effect to overcome tight skirts and the immodest dressing of today. The bloomers are covered in front and back with two skirt panels. Miss Anderson says she can run, walk, climb and get into autos and street cars without the trouble one had while wearing a tight skirt.

U. S. S. California Gets First Recruit

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 2.—At ceremonies participated in by Governor W. D. Stephens and other state officials, the first recruit of an all-California personnel squad by the navy department for the super-dreadnought California was enlisted today. Clyde Robinson of Courtland, this county, took the oath as the first man to sign for service aboard the California.

Governor Stephens issued a proclamation today urging general response to the navy's appeal for men to join the California.

Airplanes to Aid U. C. Amendment

BERKELEY, Cal., Oct. 2.—Pamphlets urging passage of amendment 12 on the November ballot, providing for the support of the University of California by direct taxation instead of legislative appropriations, will be dropped by airplanes tomorrow on the various branches and extension centers of the University, it was announced today by a student campaign committee favoring the measure. The airplanes will start from Sacramento, Fresno and San Diego.

GENERAL HOFFMAN ADDRESSES SOVIET

BERLIN, Sept. 2.—(By Mail).—General Hoffman, whom you probably remember from the "Lithuanian" said a tall man of military bearing as he introduced himself to a meeting of majority socialists called here to discuss eastern European problems.

The socialists were in the midst of a discussion on Soviet principles and the Russo-Polish situation when General Hoffman's former aide-de-camp and arose without more ado took the floor.

He charged the Versailles peace with the responsibility for the present state of Europe in that it failed to take Russia into account, and declared that Russia must be reinstated into her former position. "Germany," he said, needed Russia's foodstuffs and Russia needed Germany's industrial products.

General Hoffman went on declaring that German working men alone were able to rebuild the nation. "It is not true," he said, "that we have already reached the bottom of the abyss. We are, however, standing on the brink and in danger of slipping into it."

Despite his unexpected interruption, the meeting treated the general with courtesy although some reproaches were addressed to him for concluding the Brest-Litovsk peace.

LADY HIGHWAYMAN HOLDS UP SAILOR

BORDOLAN, Sept. 2.—(By Mail).—Yves Horton snatched off the gold ship Laverdore where he presides over the dances of the galaxy, with 1950 francs in his pocket and a great long, long in his heart for a sailor's good time.

"Stand up!" was the shout of a feminine voice that greeted him as he turned into a waterfront street from the docks. "This is a good joke," said Yves as he wheeled about to look into the muzzle of a business-like revolver, held by a gleaming feminine hand. "This is not a good joke, but no less you are!"

"Blug!" spat the pug-nose-like revolver and Yves felt a stinging pain in the left shoulder.

When he awoke, the 1950 francs was gone and so was the business-like woman. It was just going dark. Yves went to the police station first and then returned to the good ship Laverdore.

RIO DE JANEIRO, Oct. 2.—Authority to establish free zones (bonded warehouses) in various parts of Brazil was requested by President Pessoa in a message just transmitted to Congress. The president said that the system had proved very successful in other countries and he was sure that it would help to develop Brazilian commerce and to lighten the cost of living in Brazil. The message indicated that the first free zone would be established in Rio de Janeiro.

BOSTON MAYOR BRINGS LUNCH

A movement to stop the alleged profiteering of restaurants has been started by Bostonians. An organization called the Bring-Your-Lunch-From-Home-Club has been formulated by residents of that city. One of the chief workers of the club is A. J. Peters, Mayor of Boston. Since the birth of the organization Mayor Peters daily brings his lunch from home to the City Hall and enjoys his sandwiches and milk very much, as the photo shows.

Refuse to Recognize

Checks by Denton

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 2.—Attorneys for the estate of Jacob Charles Denton, mining promoter whose body was found buried in the cellar of his home here on September 22, today refused to recognize the validity of two checks on Denton's account cashed after his disappearance on June 2. The amount of the checks was $100. They were cashed by a woman, according to the bank teller. A handwriting expert took the checks for examination today.

"Just as Good"

is a phrase born of the most despised of all policies applied to the conduct of business. It exposes an attempt to rob one product of a well-earned standing by urging, for mercenary reasons, the purchase of another instead.

"Just as Good" has no place in the vocabulary of Owl Drug Company salespeople. They realize that the expression cannot be used without questioning the judgment and insulting the intelligence of the customer.

They are instructed to never discourage the sale of any article called for and to be guided by the general principle that the customer's wishes are paramount to all other considerations.

This policy reflects the purpose of the management to serve—rather than antagonize—and to provide what is wanted—rather than attempt to force the sale of merchandise which has been arbitrarily provided.

The Right Price for Quality Furs

At a very favorable turn of the fur market recently we purchased a wonderful collection of raw pelts. These skins have been dressed, many of them dyed, and are now being manufactured into garments—in our own shop. This is expert work and requires time and care.

Some fur garments are made up of many small skins. That they may please you and give good wear, accurate matching, and sewing is necessary. Over thirty years of experience is back of our workmanship.

The woman who buys the furs cannot know what grademark classified the raw pelts, the processes by which they were dressed or the quality of workmanship that went into making up the garment.

For These Reasons Furs Should be Bought Only from a Reliable First Class Fur House

We deal only in dependable furs.

We carry a wide line of furs differing largely in value—sable and opossum for instance—but we do not carry inferior grades. Our furs represent an investment and, no matter what kind of fur you are buying, the quality is secure and the price is right.

We have now ready for your inspection advanced models in neck pieces, shoulder throws and capes, sport coats and long coats and wraps, as well as a large assortment of foxes, lynx and wolves in natural and wanted shades.

Our prices are guaranteed to be as low or lower than the same quality furs can be bought anywhere.

Any furs selected NOW will be held until desired on payment of a small deposit.

Finish Your Home With "COSMOLAC"

The Transparent New Varnish that Will Not Crack, Peel or Scratch

Cosmolac is a new, tough, elastic finish made by John W. Masury & Son—for every surface requiring varnish. It is clear and transparent, with a beautiful gloss which can be rubbed down to a dull finish if desired. It is impervious to conditions that quickly ruin ordinary varnish. Cosmolac can be washed with hot or cold soapy water or washing compounds. Alcohol or alkali—sunshine, mud or rain will not injure it. It will not crack, scratch, peel, or bruise white. Easy to apply—and inexpensive in cost.

Cosmolac Is the Ideal Varnish for Floors

Cosmolac is made to withstand the hard use floors are put to. Hard heels and the scrapes that come when youngsters try to make the ball a skating rink, don't bother Cosmolac—for Cosmolac is harder than heels. Cosmolac will make floors smooth and glossy—and it will keep them so for ever.

Uses for Cosmolac

Finish Chairs, Tables—Furniture of all kinds—Linen—Medicine Cabinet—and all the woodwork of your home, with Cosmolac. It will beautify, and help you to keep your home spotlessly clean. Cosmolac is also a wonderful auto varnish.

Get Cosmolac at this store. It costs no more than any high-grade varnish.

Lectures Tonight on Health Subject

This evening at the Unitarian church, there will be a lecture by Dr. Noble, founder of the 20th Century Children's Hospital, on "Fighting the Parasite or Fight it off?" The lecture will be illustrated by a number of interesting slides.

Dr. Noble is noted throughout the world as a writer and lecturer, having appeared before the most important medical congresses in recent years.

This lecture will be intensely interesting and worth while and if you desire to stay young, come and hear Dr. Noble. The lecture is free—a small admission being taken for expenses.

FRESNO COW LEADS IN MILK PRODUCTION

The report of Superintendent Gardner of the Holstein Friesian Society for the first half of the year 1920 shows that the Fresno leader, Victoria (Brunard) Johnson, leads in the seven day milk division over all cows under 6 years of age in the United States, with her production of 665 pounds of milk. The cow is owned by Mrs. Annie Johnson of Fresno, and made this record while under her care. Mrs. Johnson also owns last year's leader for milk production during the same period in Duca Walker which is still holding the state championship.

SUPERIOR COURT NOTES
On an application by the defense, Judge H. Z. Austin yesterday granted a reduction in the bail of Carl Gomez, jointly charged with James Schless with criminal assault on a young girl, from $10,000 to $5,000 surety bond, or $1,500 cash. Gomez has been in jail since his arrest several weeks ago, being unable to raise the bail required.

The will of Mathilda Erickson of Kingsburg, offered for probate yesterday, leaves her estate, valued at $500, to her friend, Caroline Larson, and at the beneficiary's death to the Swedish Hospital Pacific Home, an institution for the care of aged and infirm persons. To a niece in Sweden who leaves her gold watch and chain.

An action for divorce was instituted yesterday by Julia Brooks against William W. Brooks.

DINUBANS PLAN FOR CITY PARK

Chamber of Commerce Buys Site in North Part of City

DIKUBA, Oct. 2.—The Dinuba Chamber of Commerce, through a special committee, has negotiated for and contracted to buy a ten-acre tract of land in the northern boundary of the city to be converted into a public park. The tract is part of the old Rancho place, and is situated on El Monte way in such a manner as to make it ideal for the purpose proposed. It will eventually be turned over to the city for improvement and care.

At its meeting Wednesday evening the chamber of commerce appointed a special committee to assume charge of the preparations of the Alta district exhibit at the county fair, which opens in Visalia October 3. Orange, Custer and other towns of the district are co-operating, and this year's exhibit is planned to surpass all previous efforts. Friday, October 15, has been tentatively set as the date for Alta District Day, when an impressive parade, with music by the Dinuba band, will be one of the features characterizing this district's participation in the fair.

Farm Bureau Opposes Slaughter House at Livingston

MERCED, Oct. 2.—A drastic resolution sharply condemning the contemplated construction of a slaughter house at Livingston, under construction by Buchholz, brothers, south of Livingston, was adopted by members of the Livingston farm bureau at a largely attended meeting there last night.

Buchholz brothers assert that the slaughter house will be maintained in a manner that will not constitute a nuisance, but the folks of the Livingston district are fearful that it will be objectionable to them, and finding no adequate or effective remedy in equity or in law, have resorted to the old, old tactics, the voice of the people in mass meeting. The Livingston people, it is reported, have consulted a lawyer with a view of having a flat issued which would restrain the slaughter house people from erecting the proposed abattoir, only to be advised that no action would be taken in anticipation of results are awaited with interest by the parties directly concerned and by the public.

Patterson Church Calls New Minister

PATTERSON, Oct. 2.—Rev. A. B. Shepley, of California, Humboldt county, has accepted the pastorate of the Presbyterian church here and will take charge of his work here next week from next Sunday. The pulpit will be filled Sunday by Donald Noble of Gustine. Rev. Mr. Shepley has a wife and daughter, who will come here as soon as a location can be secured for them.

Rev. Mr. Cox met with a painful accident on his ranch recently when a piece of lumber which he was taking from a pile and struck on his head, making an ugly scalp wound and burning his face by throwing him against a wagon wheel.

Miss Laura Shepley returned from a few weeks' vacation at San Francisco Friday.

Grammar Schools Are Crowded at Selma

SELMA, Oct. 2.—There are in attendance at the Selma grammar schools this year 1,640 pupils, which is far ahead of the estimated 1,400 for this year. Owing to the increase in the population of the town, which brought many children during the past six months and also to the fact that a larger proportion of the school-age children have come within the compulsion of the school attendance law, the number is so great. The only way by building a new school seems to be by building a two-room annex. This has been decided upon by the board and work will be begun immediately. In the meantime the board is looking for two new teachers to care for the lower grade children that will be in the new building.

Plan for Telephone Service to Poplar

PORTERVILLE, Oct. 2.—Action toward telephone connection with the district seat of Poplar was taken yesterday when Secretary H. L. Morrison of the local chamber of commerce, and Frank A. Gehring of the Pioneer Bank visited the present owners of that section of a map of the proposed extension was secured, and Superintendent of Construction, Roberts of the local telephone company is now making estimates on the cost of the work. With the figures available the officers of the present Poplar line will be enabled to go ahead and sign subscribers for the extension.

SELMA MAN IS FOUND INSANE

SELMA, Oct. 2.—G. W. Holmes, one of the old and well known residents of Selma was examined by the commission in Fresno on Thursday and was committed to the state asylum. Mr. Holmes has been subject to mental derangement for some time but just recently they have been more often and more serious. While he has always been harmless, yet of late he has had numerous very strange episodes. A few nights ago he brought a gun in the morning, he rang the front door bell of one of the prominent homes in Selma fully a quarter of a mile from his own home, and when it was answered he stated that he had come to sleep in the parlor. As evidence he held out his pillow which he carried in his hand.

HOLD QUILTING BEE

CLOVIS, Oct. 2.—A jolly old-fashioned comfort quilting took place at the home of Mrs. Chas. Reymann, on Tuesday when she invited in a few friends to spend the day. A delicious dinner was served. The guests at the affair were: Mrs. Reymann, Mrs. Bluff, Mrs. Scott, Mrs. Reymann, Mrs. Clifford, Mrs. Lathrop, Mrs. Porter, Misses Mabel Clifford and Inez Murphy and Master Merle Reymann.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—A reduction of nearly $22,000,000 in the national debt of the national administration since the end of government around February 25 was announced today by Secretary Payne.

Preliminary Survey For Madera Irrigation Project Is Nearly Completed Near Friant

Upper-Left—Site of Proposed Dam of Madera Irrigation District Near Friant. Upper-Right—Old Millerton Court House, First in County, Which Will Be Removed to Make Room for the Reservoir. Lower—Collins Springs Resort Which Will Also Give Way to the Advance of Progress.

DIKUBA, Oct. 2.—Surveying for the Madera Irrigation District near Friant, where the largest dam in the world is to be erected one mile above Friant, will be completed in a very short time, and it has been stated that actual construction will begin early in the coming spring.

The dam will be 310 feet high, 3,000 feet in length, with a 250 foot base, fully 250 men will be employed in its construction. When the dam is filled it will cover all of Collins Springs, now a noted sulphur spring resort, and Millerton, where was located the first county seat in Fresno county. The old court house is still standing and is in a perfect state of preservation. Friant is expecting a big wave of prosperity the coming season. The work was started July 1.

FARMERS FAVOR FEDERAL BANKS

Strong Resolutions Are Passed By Meeting of Loan Officials

MODESTO, Oct. 2.—Resolutions upholding the Federal Land Bank and the Federal Land Loan Board, seven directors and officials of California Farm Loan associations yesterday in a meeting held here at the call of M. E. Gates of Fresno, called for the purpose of organizing a state federation of farm loan associations, the matter was held over until a referendum vote of the state farm loan associations can be taken.

The meeting was addressed by President Willard D. Ellis of the Federal Farm Loan Bank of Berkeley, who declared that, although not directly advocating the move, the federal farm loan banks and board would cooperate with any state associations formed.

The following resolutions were passed stating the feeling of the members present:

"Resolved, That it is the sense of this meeting that the Federal Land Bank of Berkeley, request all of the national farm loan associations, in the state of California to vote at the annual meeting of the stockholders to be held on the second Tuesday of January, on the question of organizing a state federation of such farm loan associations, and to report to the said bank promptly the result of said vote, and that if a majority of such associations vote in favor of such organization, then the state of California to call at a time and place to be fixed by said bank, a meeting of such associations for the purpose of effecting such an organization. Be it further resolved, That this meeting endorse the administration of the Farm Loan Board at Washington, D. C., and the Federal Land Bank at Berkeley, and that we do not favor any organization antagonistic to them."

SEEKS OIL IN NEW TERRITORY

Atascadero Man to Start Drilling in Carrissa Plains Field

ATASCADERO, Oct. 2.—Henry J. Casanova, who is interested in the new oil promotion in Carrissa Plains, is in town for a short stay. This is a new venture in the Carrissa Plains, and the people living in the Carrissa Plains are confident there will be something stirring before long as Superintendent Harrison, an experienced man in the West Side fields, feels that all the oil gets to now, one oil well surely be encountered.

The well that is to be drilled in Carrissa is located near the Carrissa Plains property and the Carrissa Plains place is also not far remote from the Carrissa Plains property owned by A. M. Keene and other Carrissans.

Should oil be discovered in Carrissa Plains, many Carrissans who have been hanging out to existence by their teeth may be treated to a dose of Texas oil fever, according to J. J. Casanova, who made a visit to the valley today.

New Postmaster Is Appointed at Selma

SELMA, Oct. 2.—J. J. Heckman received notice this week of his appointment as temporary postmaster. Mr. Heckman who held the office of assistant postmaster until the resignation of A. E. Christensen the first of August, has been in charge of the office since that time. There are five applicants for the regular appointment which may be delayed for some time.

Earl Brown and Miss Agnes Campbell were married at the home of the bride's father Thursday morning, September 30 by the Rev. Howard McConnell, pastor of the Christian church. After a short trip to the bay cities Mr. and Mrs. Brown will make their home in Selma.

At the high school who number twenty-four this year held a picnic Tuesday evening around the campus beside the Mill Ditch. There is a very congenial crowd this year and the evening was greatly enjoyed being spent with the telling of stories and the singing of songs.

The marriage of Miss Gertrude Nutt to Mr. Lehman Wells occurred last Thursday evening at the home of the bride on B street. Rev. Howard McConnell performed the ceremony. The bride and groom are to reside after their wedding trip on a ranch near Selma.

Garage Worker Is Badly Burned

Andrew Mitchell, Madera, Meets With Gasoline Accident

MADERA, Oct. 2.—Andrew Mitchell, all driver for the Associated Oil Company, had a narrow escape from death late Friday afternoon when gasoline which he was putting into a gas tank exploded. Mitchell had filled three tanks and the fourth was nearly full when the gasoline ignited, presumably from a static spark. Mitchell was thrown 25 feet by the force of the explosion and was severely burned about the face. In spite of his injuries he ran to the truck and drove it away from the flames. The drums already filled, took fire from the first one, and the flames spreading to the others, and covered about a third of a mile of wheat, eight tons of hay, two wagons, two bangles and a quantity of lumber. About two-thirds of the loss was covered by insurance. Mitchell was taken to the Madera sanitarium, where he is resting comfortably. It is not believed that he will suffer permanent ill effects other than scars from the accident.

NEAR EAST ROUTES WILL BE REVISED

Changes in Balkan National Boundaries Alter Trade Channels

CONSTANTINOPLE, Oct. 2.—Owing to the general revision of boundaries of nations in the Balkans and other parts of the Near East, it is expected that trade avenues between the Near East and western Europe and the Americas will be revised in a manner that will benefit the western nations that stand ready to meet the new conditions.

In the opinion of most experts familiar with the commercial conditions in the Near East, there must be a greater proportion of shipping direct from points of production in the Near East than has existed during the war. In other words, direct trade will be increased with merchants in the distribution centers and eliminate the middlemen and the trans-shipment in Constantinople to a considerable extent. The limited and unprofitable shipping facilities in Constantinople and the prices demanded of the lightering trust and shipping agents dominated by various European governments are regarded as making this imperative.

Admiral Mark Bristol, the American high commissioner, recently visited Bulgaria and is much impressed by the efforts and industry of the Bulgarians and believes that Varna and Bourgas are destined to become much more important because of the intelligence and industry of the Bulgarians.

Odessa, in the opinion of many residents of Black Sea commerce, will never again be as important a port as it was before the war. If Rumania remains in the hands of Rumania it is expected here that a tariff wall will go up which will prevent Odessa from controlling the trade of that rich area as it did in the past.

The business of Sevastopol, Ploesti, and other Crimean ports is comparatively small. Novorossiysk, the grain shipping center for the rich farming districts owned by the Cossacks, has equipment for shipping petroleum in tanks, and is an export center for raw ore, potash, oilseeds and many other products.

Port and Brest, the two Georgian ports, afford an entrance to Persia and the entire Trans-Caspian area and are looked upon as centers which will eventually assume great importance because of their unimpeded petroleum exports to Persia. These two ports supply a population of about 2,000,000. Before the war Port was exporting between 500,000 and 600,000 tons of manganese annually from the inexhaustible deposits near Kutais. Most of this went to Germany, although the United States and England took small quantities. In 1913 the United States received 128,730 tons of this Georgian manganese. These ports also ship much of the walnut and flour of the area. The ore, coal and oil ports are the centers to which American shipping will move naturally for return cargoes.

WOMAN IS WITHOUT FOOD FOR 40 DAYS

ROSEBURG, Ore., Oct. 2.—Mrs. J. M. Lane of this city, who recently completed a forty-day fast, said she experienced no ill effects from abstaining from food for that period, but on the contrary believed she has derived benefit from it.

"For more than two years I have been suffering from stomach trouble," she said, "and have spent a small fortune endeavoring to get relief. Upon advice of my physician I undertook the fast. The only nourishment I took was a large quantity of water and the juice from half an orange each day. I was under the care of a trained nurse, and every day at meal time I sat at the table with the family. The first three days of my fast was the only period I had any craving for food. When I entered upon my fast I weighed 135 pounds, and when I finished it, 100 pounds. Aside from feeling a little weak at times I enjoyed better health than for many years."

At the conclusion of her fast she was given liquid food only for several days.

BITTER ELECTION FIGHT IN AUSTRIA

VIENNA, Oct. 2.—(By Mail).—Less than three weeks before the electoral battle in Austria, Austria will elect on October 17 a new national assembly, and the campaign is now at the top of the curve.

Beginning with the review of parliament, the two dominant parties, the Christian Socials and the Social Democrats, went on the stump and the contest is waged with all the bitterness and reproach, recrimination, charges and counter charges that are the natural outcome of an entangled coalition government which failed to satisfy the mass of either party.

On the one side are grouped the radical elements and on the other, under the general title of Christian Socialists, all the conservative factions that range from real democracy along moderate western lines to monarchists.

In the center stands the Grosse Deutsche Partei. Broadly it is grouped with the Conservatives, but its course in the present assembly has been to vote every day and that on vital measures and to preserve its strong power and to strengthen its hands in the coming elections by an appeal to both factions.

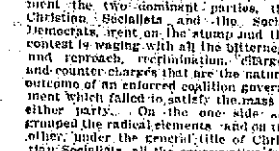

The assembly now stands to Christian Socialists, 27 Social Democrats, and 25 Grosse Deutsche deputies.

Dutiful observers generally agree that the complexion of the next assembly will not be materially altered and that another coalition ministry must be looked for. They predict that both the big parties will lose slightly to the Grosse Deutsche, giving it a position of greater advantage and strength in a new coalition ministry than it has ever enjoyed.

General opinion is that in such an event the Grosse Deutsche group will ally itself wholly with the right in all important measures and taxes. This is corroborated by the election appeal of the Socialists which join the Christian Socialists and Grosse Deutsche parties in a plan for the failure of the present government to put through the reforms the Socialists advocated.

PHILIPPINE TRADE BALANCE $31,761,420

MANILA, P. I., Oct. 2.—The balance of trade in favor of the Philippine Islands for the first seven months of the year 1920 amounted to $31,761,420, according to figures given out today by the customs bureau.

The total exports for the seven months amounted to 106,651,611 and the imports to $74,889,191.

The collector of customs explained that the large balance of trade in favor of the Philippines was due chiefly to exports of sugar following the high prices in the United States. The shipments of hemp, also were large for the period.

For the month of July alone exports of sugar amounted to $8,955,557 pounds of a value of $13,044,392.

KILL MEXICAN MINERS AND CAPTURE WOMEN

BUENOS AIRES, Oct. 2.—Details of a battle said last Wednesday on the town of Tonolli, Sonora, Mexico, in which four Mexican miners were killed and eight women captured, were given here today.

The women later were rescued and four of the miners captured and executed in the public square, the report said.

The outbreak was said to have come from Sonora, driven from the state by a campaign against outlawry. Federal soldiers pursued the bandits. Mexican officials, it was said, expressed the belief that the bandits were recently discharged federal soldiers.

Threaten Strike Over Girl's Reinstatement

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Oct. 2.—A threat that unless the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph company reinstates Miss Mary O'Neil, a member of the Telephone Operators' Union, a strike will be ordered here was made today at a meeting of the Sacramento Federation of Labor Councils here tonight.

In a statement to the council, Miss O'Neil said who had been discharged because of her union affiliation. She charged L. P. Ewers, traffic manager, with being responsible for this action.

A committee of three was named to take the case before every civil organization in Sacramento. Should such an appeal be in vain, a strike will probably be called, the federation announced.

OKLAHOMA WOMAN IN CONGRESS FIGHT

MUSKOGEE, Okla., Oct. 2.—Miss Alice Robertson, formerly postmaster here, took advantage of a well-known opportunity to enter the country because of her activities in both civic and executive enterprises. She is making an active campaign here as Republican candidate for congress. Her district is the second congressional district of Oklahoma.

The greater part of Miss Robertson's life has been devoted to the education of the Indian. Born and reared in the West, she was educated in the east for social and executive work among the Five Civilized Tribes.

Miss Robertson has been vice president of the National Education Association and United States Commissioner of Creek Indian schools.

SULTAN OF SULU BRITISH PENSIONER

MANILA, P. I., Oct. 2.—The Sultan of Sulu, who enjoys an annual stipend of $5,000 (Mexican) from the British North Borneo company under a treaty arrangement dating from the reign of his grandfather, recently gained the impression that the treaty provided for the payment of his annuity in pounds sterling—six thousand pounds a year instead of six thousand dollars (Mexican).

He figured that if his impression were true, the British North Borneo company owed him something like $750,000 gold in back annuities. He made a trip to Borneo and presented his claim. After the original treaty was produced and examined by the Sultan's lawyer, he became convinced that the information given to him was wrong and that the treaty provided for payment of $5,000 (Mexican) a year. He returned to his home on the island of Jolo satisfied.

At the present rates of exchange his annuity of $5,000 (Mexican) amounts to almost double what he receives in normal times.

LATE MODEL CARS

1920 Marmon Touring Car, 1920 Essex Touring Car on Exhibition All Week at the Fresno District Fair.

Watch Spark For Best Efficiency

It behooves every motorist to watch the small things in operating a motor car. For instance, a little thing like keeping the spark retarded will cause overheating the motor car engine.

One which will result in many unnecessary repair bills. A late spark gives rise to overheating because combustion takes place so late that the gases have not had opportunity to be cooled by expansion before the exhaust opens. The result is that the engine runs much hotter than if the explosion occurred near upper dead center, as it is supposed to do.

TO INVESTIGATE ROAD SYSTEM

State Engineers Inspect All Highways in Big Survey

Investigation of the State road system by the California State Automobile Association through Highway Engineers E. H. Peters and Walter C. Howe will be completed October 5, according to an announcement made yesterday by H. J. Brunker, chairman of the good roads committee of the association.

The engineers have completed a physical inspection of the entire paved state system with the exception of the route south of San Francisco along the coast.

Questions involving thickness and width of pavements are being studied in light of present-day road burdens and an effort is being made to estimate future traffic. In approaching this investigation and in passing upon the various details which present themselves a friendly and constructive spirit is the controlling impulse, according to chairman Brunker.

How best to administer funds supplied for a definite purpose, and which through an unforeseen rise in the cost of labor, material and transportation is now being inadequate, is another problem to be worked out and solved.

The preliminary report is expected to be filed October 15.

opened a direct branch at 1415 Van Ness avenue, having taken over the John H. Covel Motors Co. showroom, former dealers in the southern counties. Mr. Jerome E. Nottingham, one of the officers of the company, will be in direct charge to set the new branch under full steam ahead.

Trap in Gas Tank Should Be Cleaned

Most present-day gasoline tanks are fitted with a sediment trap which usually is located at the place where the pipe line leaves the tank. This trap has a wire gauze screen, and a cap is provided to catch foreign matter. The car owner should make it a practice to clean this sediment trap at least twice a month during active operation. The present grade of motor fuel is not strictly pure and foreign matter rapidly accumulates in this catch all.

Bad Lubrication Wastes Gasoline

Motorists who do not think they are getting sufficient mileage from a gallon of gasoline should take care to lubricate their cars properly. Friction is the greatest enemy of the gas bill and the last dollar in the world. One of the greatest factors in many motorists' being able to get more mileage from their cars is the careful oiling of the valve stems. On a long drive or where the car is being used with regularity the oiling of these stems with a good grade of oil, your garage man will advise you as to the best for your particular make of car. It will make an appreciable addition to the miles per gallon and will greatly increase the efficiency on pulling power of your motor.

Plan Now For a Bigger Crop Next Year

Be Sure of Plenty of Water by Installing a Victory Oil Motor and a Krogh Pump

The time to assure yourself of plenty of irrigating water is during the season that you need it least. Begin now to anticipate your next year's needs and install a pumping plant outfit that will take care of your needs. The combination of a Victory Oil Motor and a Krogh-pump will give you many seasons' uninterrupted service and Mr. Darrah, our expert pumping plant man, will be glad to go into detail on them with you and he can no doubt give much valuable information regarding pumping plants.

Moline Orchard Tractor

The Moline tractor is the two-wheel construction type and its features are many, a few of which we here mention: 85 per cent of the tractor weight is traction weight. It is light in weight, and easily coupled to the implement. One man operates both the tractor and the implement and it is very simple and easy to handle. The Moline tractor is operated from the seat of the implement and not from the tractor, enabling the operator to keep his eyes at all times on the implement, thereby doing better and quicker work.

See Our Compton One-Man Scraper

—IT DOES MORE AND BETTER WORK THAN CAN BE DONE WITH 6 HORSES AND TWO MEN.

If you are going to need a scraper you should give the COMPTON serious consideration for with it you can do a great many things that can not be done with other scrapers.

When worked behind a Moline Orchard Tractor it does ideal work, because it is so arranged that the man rides the implement instead of the tractor and allows him to keep his eyes on his work at all times.

WHAT THE THEATERS ARE OFFERING

MARIMBA MUSIC
HIPPODROME NOW
No music has won success more rapidly or maintained it so steadily as the Marimba band. At the Hippodrome and following, they are the only band in the city. They are a musical organization of four young men and a girl, who make the sweet-toned marimba ring with harmony, both classic and "jazz."
Coffman & Carroll appear in two songs of brown, impersonating the Southern drunks. They are reported to excel in their characterizations at the portal and one of his patrons.
"The Unexpected," in which Henry

Keane and Martha Hayes will appear, is a land of comedy and drama. To describe the plot would destroy the many surprises in the skill.
The Wonder Girl is a decidedly new idea in novelty vaudeville. This little girl is a successful, artistic gymnast. She presents a pretty and daring exhibition embellished with a spectacular environment quite out of the ordinary.
Irene Zolar and Billy Knox, late of the Winter Garden (New York) favorite, offer "The Jazz Girl" and the "Dime Play."
Mignon Anderson is featured in "Mountain Madness."

FANCHON & MARCO
TONIGHT, TOMORROW
The striking success of Fanchon and Marco early in September in Fresno has called for the announced return of the "Satin of 1920" for tonight and tomorrow night at the White.
In "Let's Get It" last year, many friends were left here after their two engagements, and there were many more added after their appearance here this season with their latest vehicle, "A Revue with a Plot."
The folios of the motion picture industry form the basis of the plot. Handling the humor of the offering are five of America's premier comedians, Lloyd and Wells, Arthur West, Al Weinman and John Sheehan. Miss Eva Clark is the primo dancer. Other members of the cast, especially noteworthy, are Muriel Striker, Lucille Harmon and Daisy DeWitte. The girls are a big feature.
The book was written by Jean Hayes, famed for his work in "Ziegfeld's Follies." The Chicago composer, Lester, directed the production, and the catchy songs and lyrics are from the pens of Fanchon and Marco.

MADGE KENNEDY
FEATURE LIBERTY
Madge Kennedy will be screened in her latest, "The Girl with the Jazz Heart," and Buck Jones in "Firebrand Trevison." A western romance of speed and daring, at the Liberty today. Madge Kennedy is the spirit of the latest happenings in the world, a comedy and a beautiful scene will constitute the balance of the program. While Leonard H. ## MARCELLA SEMBRICH

Mme. Sembrich, one of the most famous women singers of the world, had the unique distinction of retiring from the opera stage at the full height of her reputation, at the age of 42 years, just twenty years ago. Born in Austria, with a European training and career, she first sang in the United States in 1883, and by long residence has acquired American musical citizenship. Mme. Sembrich still occasionally sings for concerts, and notably contributed her share toward the raising of funds for Polish relief during the war. She maintains a New York studio. This is a photograph of the diva at her summer cottage, "Maples," at the Lake Placid Club, New York, taken recently.

MARY PICKFORD'S
NEXT TO BE RAG-TAG AND BOB-TAIL

Mary Pickford is to appear in another of the kid comedies for which she is famous. It will be titled "Rag-Tag and Bob-Tail," and it will go to the screen before her current production, "Flame in the Dark." Both stories were written by her director, Clarence Marion.
"A Flame in the Dark" has an Italian atmosphere and a lot of snuffing in it. In the production story is a number of Italian actors who brought from Italy when she and her husband, Douglas Fairbanks, completed their honeymoon tour of Europe, and in her desire to be realistic she even goes so far as to speak Italian lines when it is necessary to talk at all.
"I've learned enough of the language to sing an opera," says the little Mary runs out of Italian words and then she has either to lapse into English or stop the scene.
In "Rag-Tag and Bob-Tail," in fact, she says, she came across so many blundering Italians in the fishing village where she went to get the atmosphere for her story when she was that she decided against the black trawler.
The reason for the kid comedy, "Rag-Tag and Bob-Tail" is that ex-blonde of the motion picture, Charlie Chaplin, is of a retiring nature and has not mingled with the movie thrills to an extent that could be called noticeable. Yet he is such a "genius" he would be hailed everywhere as a genius. Despite his retiring nature, he has used in several very exciting episodes since his earlier sudden marriage to Mildred Harris. Ever since she has managed to keep the comedian in hot water and every move she has made in carrying out her plan to assert her marital rights has been duly chronicled in the Los Angeles papers. The result has been to keep the nerves of the studio clean on the edge and to keep him from more than ever before to play on his beloved violin. Now that he has adopted New York as his temporary home town, a rumor has come from there to the effect that London really is his goal and that he is considering some very flattering offers from several of the big producing companies there. His studio here is advertised as being for sale or lease and the members of his family very efficient conducting organization are seeking employment elsewhere. Los Angeles Correspondence.

VOCATIONAL EDUCATION

Edited by F.H. Sutton

Miss Lillian Hawkins, co-ordinator of girls in the part-time school of Fresno, has modeled in a few words the sentiment which will be found in all of the departments of this school. The following editorial expresses in brief what Miss Hawkins feels about the attitude of all persons who are connected with this field of education.

"Part-time education, as urged by thinking people whether in the class which has commonly denominated the educator group or among those who have closer contact with the school, is a movement which is to give the boys and girls who have left school an opportunity to get what they have themselves discovered they need. Just as we who are now doing it, we are convinced that this work is able to fulfill this demand and we are making good the spirit of this new law.

The young people with whom we deal are in many ways more mature than their contemporaries. They have retained their school training. They consider the subjects and work chosen from the standpoint of the present, of at least of the immediate future. How much can it do toward advancing them now, how will it advance them in the future? These are two questions that must be answered practically.

Some of those who are affected by the part-time law are not friendly toward the class-room. They dropped out of school because they could not see the connection between it and life. This prejudice is not an easy one for us to remove. The most practical method is to learn from the employer in what points the employee are lacking for doing the present work most efficiently. If it is no more than a demand for rapid addition of small sums, it should be attended to at once. The adding machine in the office takes care of long sums there, at present it is neither practical nor possible to furnish individual machines for each employee. A few minutes of rapid calculation every day, at least every week, will not be amiss.

In these days of prices it is certainly a satisfactory condition of affairs for girls to be able to make the simpler articles of clothing and to mend them. The majority of girls can accomplish much toward making a garment in the time that they waste just because there is nothing to do. They call it mending but because they do not know what to do with it. Mending is an art in danger of being relegated to the museum with samplers. Let us not make it utilitarian at least. Let us reduce waste by prolonging the lives of garments.

New problems and greater advantages will come as we work. Now we can best solve our difficulties by making use of all the resources of the school which come to us.

It will be interesting to know that Edwin R. Snyder, of the Department of Vocational Education of this state is scheduled to discuss the subject "Practical Problems of Part-Time Education," at the Superintendent's Convention at Riverside next week. It will be interesting to hear him to know that the special problems of this are to be discussed under the following heads:

1. Outline the scheme of general organization for the Fresno High School district.
2. Total enrollment of part-time pupils to date.
3. Segregation of enrollment by types of classes, with a statement of occupational status types.
4. A statement of the most interesting practical problems that you have met, and how you met them.
5. A statement of the benefits of co-operation of local organizations, and a statement of the co-operation of local industries.
6. Describe your method of marketing part-time education to the employer, (b) to the parent, (c) to the child.
7. Instructors: number recruited from the elementary schools; number recruited from the high school staff; number recruited from the community; a statement, in each instance, of the number that have had special training for the work.

It has not been made clear to many of the parents, that the responsibility of sending their children to school rests entirely upon them. The part-time act which effects the boys and the girls who are now working, who were not seventeen years of age July 1, 1920 and who have not received permits at once. The Office in room West 13 in the High School building is the place where these permits are issued. The benefits of parents, their responsibilities as outlined by the school laws, are printed in the following statement which is taken directly from the School Laws of 1920.

Parents, or Guardian Responsible for Attendance of Minor.

Sec. 8. Each parent, guardian or other person having control or charge of any minor required under the provisions of section three of this act to attend section time classes, must compel the attendance of such minor upon the same. He must retain a copy of the certificate of school enrollment and permit to work, provided for under section four of this act, and upon receipt of this act, and upon receipt of the same upon request of any officer of the law or other person authorized to enforce the provisions of this act.

Penalty on Parent for Failure to Send Minor to School.

Should any such parent, guardian or other person having control or charge of any such minor fail to perform any of the above duties, he shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and, upon conviction, shall be liable, for the first offense, to a fine of not more than ten dollars or to imprisonment for not more than five days, and for each subsequent offense, he shall be liable to a fine of not less than ten dollars nor more than fifty dollars, or to imprisonment for not less than five days nor more than twenty-five days, or to both such fine and imprisonment.

The faculty of the part-time division of the Fresno school has been called upon in many instances to give the details of the Federal Child Labor Law. The boys and girls who come under the Part-time education, also in many instances are affected by the Federal Child Labor Law. For the benefit of many people who have made inquiries regarding these laws the following portion of the Federal Child Labor Law, Title 28, approved February 24, 1919, provides:

an excise tax on the employment of child labor of ten percentum of the entire net profits received or accrued during each taxable year from the operations of every mill, quarry, workshop, factory or manufacturing establishment in which any child under the age of fourteen years has been employed or permitted to work more than eight hours in any day or more than six days in any week, or after the hour of seven o'clock p. m. or before the hour of six o'clock a. m. The tax is also imposed on the entire net profits received from the operations of any mine or quarry in which any child under the age of sixteen years has been employed or permitted to work. Liability for the tax is established by the employment of any child labor as defined by the statute. The product of the child's labor is not the basis for the imposition of the tax. In every case the tax is applied to the entire net income of the taxpayer. When used in the act the terms "under the age of sixteen" means those children who have not completed their sixteenth birthday; "under the age of fourteen years" means those children who have not completed their fourteenth year.

The instruction that is given to boys and girls, who come from the department stores and other lines of business in the city of Fresno is made as definitely practical as it is possible to make it. We, of the Part-time division are developing some very practical work. The line of the department stores.

The operations of trade blind up all industry, and since life is sustained by industry, the retailing of commercial commodities is a wide and comprehensive subject. The additional possibilities offered in the study of this subject are far-reaching. One of the authors has pointed out that a scientific investigation is made of such great divisions as Art, Science, Manufacture, Language, Mathematics, History, Commerce, Ethics, Economics, Psychology, and Sociology.

To inform the public and the employers as to some of the general scope of part-time education, for employees from the commercial field. We have copied a few paragraphs from our text. References made to a Text book on Retail Selling, by Helen Rich Norton, formerly Assistant Director, Prince School of Education for Store Service, Boston, Massachusetts.

Evolution of the department store. What was the forerunner of the modern department store? Some writers assert that it was the natural outgrowth of the "one-line" specialty house, it being manifest that several lines, brought together under one roof could be operated more cheaply than single lines in separate stores. Others, and they are in the majority, trace its origin to the general or crossroads store of rural districts. The village store has been often ridiculed for its method of assorting of wares—tea and shoe strings, gingham and schoolbooks, sugar and penicillin, side by side—many unrelated articles assembled in a room.

Yet a department store is an elaborate development of the idea and principle of the country store, and occupies in the community a position of usefulness and convenience very like that of its modest progenitor.

Mr. Edward A. Flene of Boston, explains the evolution of the department store as follows:

"The small general store was one of the first ways of assembling goods that were generally wanted, but which were made at a distance, the purpose being to make it easier for people to come to a central place to select what they wanted. The department store was a later evolution. Why should it have come at all when the country store had the stock and the advantage of being in the field long ahead of the department store? The chief reason is that the country store, being a small store, dealt with a limited patronage. It could buy only in small quantities and the cost of the articles it sold was largely increased by an unnecessary number of middlemen between the producer and buyer. The country store brought a local laborer or man of my father, who in turn brought of the nation's goods to the country store. Moreover, because it was possible to get goods in very small quantities, the number of small stores was expected to be the variety and amount of stock in each such store not big. This small store method of distribution, with its excessive number of stores, and limitations on the cost of goods, was expensive and allowed the coming of the department store, a more successful method of doing business. For the department store makes possible the buying or producing of goods in large quantities and tends more and more to eliminate the middleman. It is able to buy in large quantities in larger quantities, its publicity is larger and more easily accomplished, coming in part from its location and the fact of the building the store occupies. The percentage of expense allowed for publicity in big stores permits of space and double pages in the newspapers and forces the name upon the attention of people, while the same percentage allowed by the small stores gives them only a small advertisement, which is often lost among the very extensive advertisements of the big store."

Paterson. The Seven Times One Club met at the home of Mrs. Charles Lee Tuesday to celebrate her birthday. Dinner was served at 1 o'clock and was a feast worthy of the members of the club.

After dinner, Mrs. H. P. Taylor read a poem, written for the occasion, and the club presented Mrs. Lee with a fine leather handbag. She also received numerous other beautiful gifts. The afternoon was spent in social converse, and the ladies employed their hands with their fancy work. At the parting hour the club song was sung, and all wished Mrs. Lee many happy returns of the day.

Patience department stores. The first Mauchly in Paris, established by Mauchly in 1863, but not departmentalized until 1879, is generally conceded to have been the first department store in the world. There appears to exist some doubt as to the first store in the United States to be established on department-store lines. The distinction is conferred upon the A. T. Stewart store (now occupied by John Wanamaker) of New York City. In 1848 Mr. Stewart, a native Irishman, who had been a successful merchant in New York since 1825, built a store in which he conducted a very successful business on a scale large for the times. The limit of the building was small at the time because that was thought to be the greatest point compatible with safety. Other well-known department stores established about this time or a few years later were:

KEYS CEREMONY AT LONDON TOWER

LONDON, Sept. 30.—(By Mail.)—Few Americans who have visited the Tower of London have ever witnessed the ceremony of the keys, though it has taken place nightly for years.

The yeoman porter, with an escort of guards, will highly "boots" the visitor at the entrance. A "key" is then placed in the hands of the porter, and, broad daylight or night, follows the porter with the "key" to the "Hall, who comes there" demands the "key."

NIGHTWATCHMEN GUARD MADRID

MADRID, Sept. 30.—(By Mail.)—The scene of night watchmen of Madrid, as depicted by the announcement that London is about to follow the example of Spanish towns and appoint a corps of guards and keepers in order to prevent burglaries. Since the year 1878, the corps of night watchmen in Madrid, from 6 o'clock at night until seven in the morning, in winter and until half-past six in summer, the corps is on duty around every block of houses in the city. "Guards" arriving at their houses after 9 p. m. nearly all cases find them closed and as it is unusual to carry the keys generally of the watchmen, they are compelled to call the watchmen. This is done by clapping the hands, a call which brings him to the scene with his lantern hanging on a kind of lance and the keys of all the houses hanging in a bunch. In most instances he knows the occupants of the houses and he precedes them to their flats if they have not the keys, most lay in their pockets, or given them a "small paper" taken from his lantern to light them up the stairs if they do not need his mastery.

The guard is small, usually two come for a pedestrian, but double that amount for persons arriving in a carriage. Hourly limits, however, generally pay so much monthly to the owner.

The custom of the sereno calling out the hour and weather throughout the night has died out in Madrid but still thrives in the country.

STANDARD EIGHT

A Powerful Car

PRIDE of ownership is based on a car's power to do the seemingly impossible. Your feeling for a car that "has seen you through" every emergency is something more than impersonal.

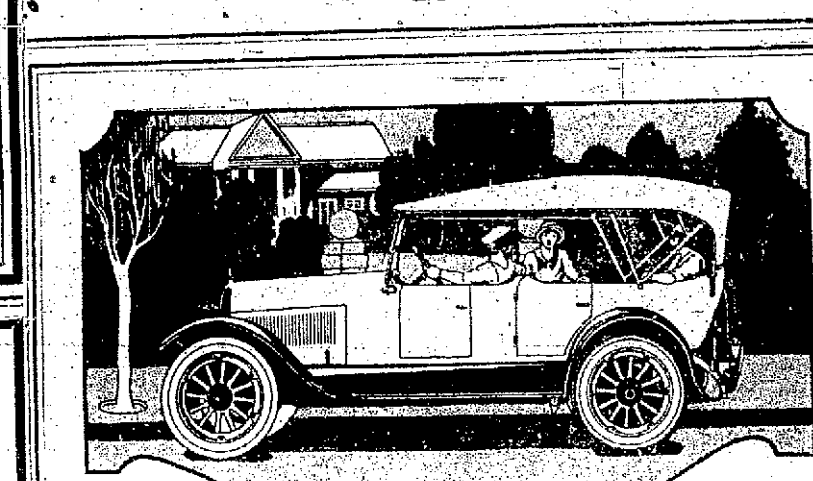

The owner of a Standard Eight speaks of the car's flexibility, its quick acceleration and ability to level hills. Tremendous reserve power is a guarantee of economical driving service.

The beauty and finish of the Standard Eight are appreciated by the most casual observer. Let us give you a demonstration.

STEPHENS Salient Six

Leadership Won By Its Greater Value—Greater Service

The gradually growing popularity of the Stephens is due to the definite satisfaction which this car gives its owners.

It comes from owner appreciation of the finer workmanship and the true beauty and style of Stephens hand-built bodies.

It comes also from owner satisfaction in the greater service of the modern Stephens engine.

An engine that is no respecter of the grades of gasoline you supply it—that burns all the gasoline, thus wasting no fuel and no power.

A salient service, that comes to owners in the form of speed, endurance, flexibility, hill-climbing ability and smooth-riding at their maximum.

Stephens leadership is a just leadership solidly fixed in the minds of Stephens-owners, who agree, that, "To own a Stephens is to enjoy the height of motor car satisfaction."

DINUBA

Mrs. R. E. Morton and Miss Louise Bellman entertained most pleasantly on Thursday afternoon in honor of Miss Lella Cox, whose engagement to their brother, William, was announced earlier in the week by Miss Cox's sister, Mrs. J. W. Hill. Five tables for bridge furnished the afternoon's diversion, and a two-course refreshment, starting with a salad of lettuce and tomato and pink, brought the party to a pleasing close. Diminutive brides were a feature of the decorations, and it was a complete surprise to the bride-to-be when Lella Ann, Sedgwick, dressed as a bride, entered with a shower of dainty and appropriate gifts, to the music of a clever, parody on the wedding march. The wedding of Miss Cox and Mr. Sedgwick is to occur in a short time, and will be an event of no little interest to their many friends. Mr. Sedgwick is a native of this district and a business man of prominence. Miss Cox has been a popular member of the younger social group ever since she came here a couple of years ago from Canada to unite with her sister, Mrs. Hill.

Mrs. J. H. Evans of Berkeley is visiting with her son, A. H. Evans, having returned with him from his summer's tour of the coast cities last Tuesday.

Among the activities set on foot by the local Y. W. C. A. since the arrival of the secretary, Miss Elizabeth Black, is a Business Women's club. Two preliminary meetings have been characterized by active interest and cordial good cheer, and next Tuesday evening organization is to be perfected by the choice of officers. The weekly meeting time has been fixed for Tuesday evenings at 1:30.

Mrs. E. C. White was elected by the members of the Presbyterian Ladies' Aid Society as hostess at a reception at the White home for Rev. and Mrs. E. C. White on Tuesday evening. Over 100 members of the Presbyterian congregation, and ministers of the other denominations, with their wives, were present and enjoyed an evening of music and sociability in honor of their departing friends. Rev. and Mrs. White left on Thursday for their future home in Chicago.

Misses Beatrice Graham, Lucy Woodhouse and Genevieve Burton left during the week just past for San Jose, where they will all be students during the coming term at the College of the Pacific.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Black and Mrs. A. E. Wells of Pasadena, who have been staying for some time at their ranch near Three Rivers, spent several days of the past week visiting with the Black's daughter in Dinuba, Miss Elizabeth Black.

Two Dinuba young men entered the Stanford University at Palo Alto this week. Morris Mode and Alton Newton. The latter is to take a law course.

Mr. and Mrs. H. H. E. Hunt returned to their home near Bakersfield Thursday after an extended visit here with Mrs. Hunt's parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Hopkins. The Hopkins went down to spend a few days with the Bernfield relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Roland M. Kish and Mr. and Mrs. Ray A. Greenwald left by automobile on Thursday for Los Angeles.

New Presbyterian Pastor Arrives With Bride at Fowler

REV. AND MRS. J. M. ACHISON

Mrs. Achison was Miss Ruth Knapp of Los Angeles before her recent marriage.

Angels. From there they will go east by train, the Knapps to New York and the Greenwalds to Missouri to visit relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Kraus and daughter, Katherine, have returned from a sojourn in the bay cities to spend several weeks among Dinuba friends before going to Los Angeles for the winter.

Wallace M. Barnes, son of Mrs. J. O. Barnes of this city, and Miss Ruby G. Adams of Fowler were married Wednesday evening at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Ivan Kennedy. They came at once to the groom's ranch west of Dinuba, which is to be their home.

O. W. Bailey of Kokomo, Indiana, who has been visiting here with his sister, Mrs. E. C. W. Saragusa, has returned to his home, but with the intention of disposing of his interests there and returning to make Dinuba his home.

Mrs. J. R. Locke and young son and daughter have returned from Pennsylvania, where they have visited the home.

REEDLEY

Dea. Townsend, brother of Mrs. W. Houser, wife and children, arrived in Reedley Friday from Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania. They traveled across the country by auto taking two months to make the trip. They spent considerable time in Yellowstone Park and visited at other places of interest.

Charles Morrison, Eugene Fowler, Mrs. Alice Turner and Mrs. C. H. King, the latter of Selma, left Saturday by auto for Los Angeles. Mr. Fowler will remain in the south for some time and will spend a portion of his time taking treatment at San Jacinto not far from Los Angeles. Mrs. Turner will visit for a couple of weeks with relatives.

Miss Jessie G. Ballard, who has been visiting the past seven weeks at Santa Rosa, returned Wednesday accompanying her mother, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Ballard and Mr. Charles W. Winkling, all of Santa Rosa who will visit with relatives here before journeying on to Southern California.

L. Jackson has returned from a several weeks visit in San Francisco and Monterey.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Seegins who recently returned from Honolulu have decided not to return to the islands to make their permanent home. They have purchased a poor home in the beautiful surroundings of Los Altos and are planning to move there next week.

Their vineyard property southeast of Reedley is in the care of their son Edna, who has rented the place and will continue to farm it.

The Hereon class of the M. E. Sunday school met with Mrs. E. Fowler Friday afternoon and elected officers for the year. Mrs. E. N. Warner was chosen president, Mrs. E. F. Carlson, teacher, Mrs. W. E. Ames, secretary, Mrs. J. H. Fairweather.

Another secretary, Mrs. Prim Peck, treasurer. The class will meet on the last Thursday of each month and will meet at the home of some member of the class.

Mrs. Esther Lee Henning, Oscar and Ethel Noren and Miss Adeline Huffman are in Oakland visiting at the Noren home. Miss Noren will remain in the city with relatives.

DOS PALOS

At the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Lee, Thursday a large crowd was present and greatly enjoyed the evening, which was spent in games and music. Refreshments were served at 11 o'clock. The local fair for San Jose is being held at the College of the Pacific. He will be greatly missed by his many friends, especially the young boys. They all wish him success and happiness, and will look forward with pleasure to his return.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Hurst, who have visited four months among relatives in Ohio and Indiana, are now visiting in Chico, with their son, R. G. Hurst, for a couple of weeks before returning home.

OROSI

The local Women's Christian Temperance Union met at the home of Mrs. B. C. Petty on Friday afternoon, Sept. 24. There were present twenty people. The business was transacted, the ratification of the report of the nominating committee resulted in the following officers and superintendents being elected for the ensuing year: President, Mrs. A. E. Ditch; first vice president, Mrs. Mary Gaudin; second vice president, Mrs. Minnie Pershing; third vice president, Mrs. Minnie Steele; fourth vice president, Mrs. Maggie Garrison; recording secretary, Mrs. Emilie Hawley; treasurer, Mrs. Bessie Rich; superintendents, Anti-Smoking, Mrs. Grace Forney; Anti-Socialism, Mrs. Angie Hall; flower mission and relief, Mrs. Minnie Cook; social meetings and red letter days, Mrs. Mabel Peck; temperance and missions, Mrs. Harriet Davis; soldiers and sailors, Mrs. Margaret Wagner; evangelistic, Mrs. Emilio Harlow; Sunday school, Mrs. Minnie Leonard; Christian citizenship, Mrs. Martin Briggs; Sabbath observance, Mrs. Lottie Roberts. Delegates to the state convention in Richmond, October 19 to 23: Mesdames Petty, Cook and Roberts; their alternates, Mesdames Ditch, Whitmore and Harlow.

A social hour followed the business session, delicious cake and fruit punch was served and the meeting adjourned until the last of October when Mrs. Bessie Richards on Whitmore avenue will entertain the union.

TAFT

Mrs. George F. Moore entertained a number of little friends of her daughter, Aura, Saturday afternoon at a birthday party in honor of her seventh birthday anniversary. Games were played and the usual good time enjoyed. Delicious refreshments were served in the late afternoon.

Mrs. Aura received her birthday gifts and those wishing her happy returns of the day were: Helen Marie Thompson, Jessie Hamilton, Nauda Davis and Bernice Tenner, Eva Kitch, Ethel Harlow, Frances Perrigo.

Mrs. Moore was assisted by Mrs. Henry Hoelzer.

The first dance of the season to be given by the Women's Improvement Club of Taft will be held Wednesday evening, September 29th, at Buchanan Hall. The club women have planned a series of dances, and the proceeds are to go toward their new club building. The committee in charge will see that everyone has a good time.

The public is invited to attend and help make these dances the most popular of the year. The following club women will serve on the reception committee: Mesdames Follanbee, Black, Adkins, McClintock, Monahan, McKinnon, Hopkins, Fox, E. J. Johnson and Galterson.

FOWLER

FOWLER, Oct. 2.—Rev. John Achison, who has just been officially called to the pastorate of the United Presbyterian church, has returned from a trip to southern California with his bride, Mrs. Achison, formerly Miss Ruth Knapp of Los Angeles, a graduate of Oberlin College, Ohio, and since graduation was first a teacher, then a business woman, holding a responsible position in a bank.

Mrs. Achison is at home in the new parsonage, corner Twelfth and Fifth streets, and the church work begun by Rev. Achison some months before his official call, promises to go forward successfully during the coming year.

HARDWICK

One of the most enjoyable parties of the season was the afternoon affair given by Mrs. R. M. Blowers at her home near Hardwick, honoring Mrs. Homer Carter, whose home was burned during the recent big fire at Fowler. The party resulted itself into a shower of pretty articles toward the furnishing of a new home for the honor guest. Home made ice cream and cake were served by the hostess. The guests of the afternoon included Mesdames R. M. Blowers, P. Gibson, C. Daley, F. McCall, M. P. Johnson, Mary E. Ayers, H. Perdue, J. W. Archer, Maud Wright, Mrs. Burtrum, L. Wilcox, E. Hoeking, Homer Carter, G. Nagle, Ethel Osallup, Florence Johnson, T. Moody, Charles King, M. Duggett, J. Bernstein and Mrs. Frather.

Other mile stones by Messrs. F. W. Conant, Lawrence Reichman and J. H. Tripp. The decorations were purely patriotic, festoons of red, white and blue entwined with long sprays of Malabar ferns, lilies and numerous trophies from the battle of the Marne. The most highly prized trophy was a brace of pistols which were taken from a German spy. Numerous handsome and useful presents were received by the "Milestone" passers, with special mention of the many happy returns of the day were: Helen Marie Thompson, Jessie Hamilton, Nauda Davis and Bernice Tenner, Eva Kitch, Ethel Harlow, Frances Perrigo.

Cole Aero-Eight

You Do Not Sacrifice Economy To Get Maximum Power In An Aero-Eight

When the Cole Aero-Eight reduced all records by 7½ hours on its recent non-stop run from Portland to San Francisco, averaging 12½ miles per gallon of fuel, over 852 miles that ranged from the heights of the Siskiyou Mountains to the almost impassable detours of rugged Oregon, it proved that economy is not sacrificed to get power in an Aero-Eight.

Just as the Aero-Eight is designed to deliver in excess of 15,000 miles on tires so is it built to negotiate from 12 to 14 miles per gallon of fuel while developing 80 horsepower and affording an acceleration of from 10 to 80 miles in 10 seconds.

The Ideal Hudson For The Owner-Driver

Just the Car for All Weather—All Roads—All Passenger Service—Seats Four

Roads leading into cities all over the land reveal the popularity of the Hudson coupe with those who daily travel between town and country.

It provides absolute reliability. There is comfort and ease in its operation which, even though the travel be made over congested or rough highways, nevertheless delivers the driver to his destination free from any sense of fatigue.

In coach work and appointment nothing is omitted that adds to the convenience or comfort of the passenger.

No car is easier to operate— one is faster or more satisfactory to drive or ride in.

It is the utility car of busy people of consequence who rely upon their automobile as they do upon the telephone or any other modern time saving, comfort giving agency.

Such popularity accounts for the scarcity of Hudson Coupes. Prompt ordering only can assure early delivery in these days when fine closed bodies are so difficult to obtain.

HANDLING AN AUTOMOBILE

Care of the Storage Battery

By BARNEY OLDFIELD

Storage batteries, which have been used ever since the automobile industry began, still have basically the same construction and the same line of faults. The very backbone of the starting, lighting and ignition system, while the best we can get, lasts on the average only 12 months. It is considered a high life in the car and attention that the car owner gives the battery. Either the storage battery must be protected to such a degree where it will last longer or else it must be so protected that it cannot be so protected. It cannot be so protected, however, without the use of a device, otherwise damaged without the owner getting a fair warning.

The number that we have on the market is the best that we have had in a short time ago, but more recently there have come on the market improved measuring instruments and devices, designed to protect the battery. The ideal instrument would automatically cut out the battery, if it is overcharged, and if it is undercharged, it would prevent a drop in electrolyte level.

There is no reason why the electrical mind of the industry cannot design such a protective device, for without it we are going to have the same line of trouble that we now have. Recently I saw a battery being tested in a laboratory. The battery was being tested with water when the level drops, but apparently nothing has been done with it for the reason that the reservoir holding the water is not being tested. It is not being tested against freezing in winter. The automobile owner knows that he cannot look at his battery every week and determine its condition exactly. He gets some sort of an idea if he uses a hydrometer and watches the voltage across the terminals and also watches the charging rate as the car is driven. But the average automobile owner is frequently forgetful and often a bit lazy. If the battery is run down and he has a long trip, he doesn't let such a small matter as a run-down battery interfere. But batteries now cost from $25 to $45 each, so if you figure out the monthly cost for battery service you will find it very economical to try to add a few months more life to it.

Certain instruments have been designed which are supposed to indicate battery condition in terms either of voltage, wattage or specific gravity of the electrolyte. In some cases these instruments are frequently designed to be something more than ordinary electrical instruments. They are calibrated. The owner thinks that when the instrument gives full charge, the battery is really full. The instrument, in order to be of some value, will have to consider the actual state of charge of the battery and when the state is reached automatically disconnect the power from the battery so as to prevent overcharging. I believe this would be possible, only from one angle and that the utilization of the fact that overcharging occurs at a certain predetermined temperature. Now if it could be so arranged that when that temperature is reached, when charging was stopped, the battery would be protected, the one thing that might stand in the way of control of this kind is the effect of outside temperature on the battery.

U. S. S. California Most Modern and Largest of All Warships

The U. S. S. California, which will be put in commission shortly, and for which a crew is now being enlisted, is the most modern and largest of all warships. It is the first of a new class of battleships, and is the largest of all warships ever built in the United States. It is the first of a new class of battleships, and is the largest of all warships ever built in the United States.

One of the first things that strikes a young man's mind upon entering the ship is "chow," and well it may be, for the sea air, clean and invigorating, and the food, which is prepared on board, is of a high standard. The ship is a floating city, and the crew is well cared for in every respect.

All the food which will be served on board the U. S. S. California will be prepared in a "sunshine kitchen" located on deck that the sun and light will be used in the cooking process. The food is prepared in the galley, and the crew is well cared for in every respect.

Your bulbs are not properly focused in the reflectors. Try the adjustment yourself with the light beam against a white fence or wall. A road roller is not considered as a road vehicle any more than a detour.

Dear Barney Oldfield:—Can you tell me where to look for the trouble when the ignition switch is turned on? The indicator does not move or show discharge like the lights, but will do so after the engine starts. It has acted this way for six months even when the battery is fully charged.

Probably a loose or corroded ignition wire in the motor or in the motor wire. The hand does not move much because ignition takes little current. Clean and tighten the terminals.

I would suggest that you get in touch with some of the race drivers through The American Auto Assn., 515th Ave., New York. You will have to start as pitman or garage mechanic first.

Dear Barney Oldfield:—I have been reading your articles on automobiles. It is my desire to become an auto mechanic. I would like to have you outline a course for me and help me in selecting books. R. W.

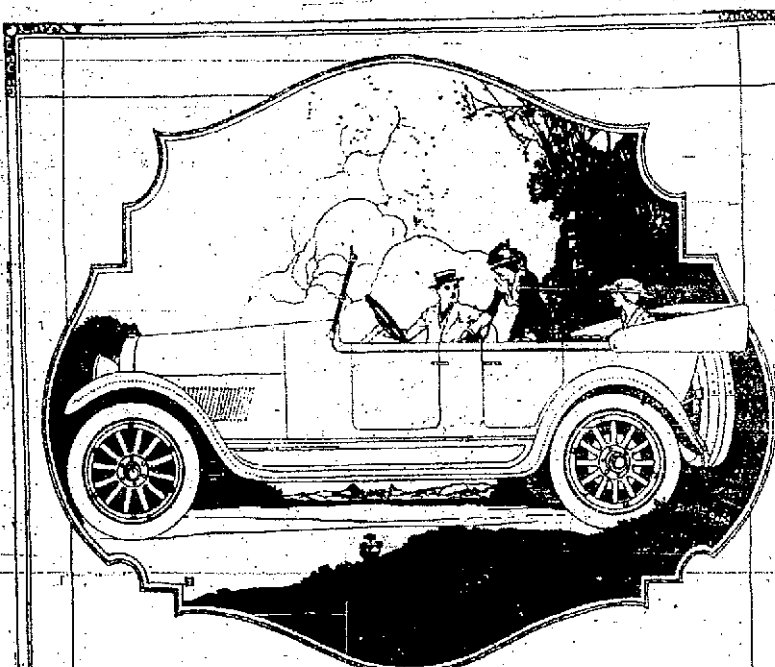

I would suggest the following: 1. A practical course in "some" auto features. 2. Text books of a reputable correspondence school also those published by Norman, Henley Co., New York, Motor World New York, Motor Age, Chicago.

Dear Barney Oldfield:—Will you please answer the following questions: 1. My running about 29 miles an hour my car starts running, but when I get to about 30 miles it stops. Can you tell me the cause of this trouble? I got my car new and it started running five months after I started it. R. L. B.

You do not tell me where the hum comes from. If it is the rear axle it is caused by worn gears or a different oil of true. Be specific.

Dear Barney Oldfield:—The lights of my car throw a black spot in the center of the road which makes it very unpleasant driving. I have had several try to remove the black spot but without success. Why is it that a steam road roller

No Such Disease

as "Hollow Tail"

There is another imaginary disease which is said to affect horses causing very serious constitutional disturbances and sometimes death. The name of this fanciful disease has not yet been definitely established by any official body, consequently, the terms may be somewhat confusing to some who may happen to go from one locality to another where this peculiar disease is said to exist.

In some sections we hear the expression "Wolf in the Tail" and in other sections it is known as "Hollow Tail."

The treatment resorted to by the farmer who claims to have certain specific knowledge along this line usually consists in "Old Hossie's" tail lard, introducing pepper and salt to relieve the condition. This treatment sounds just about as logical as to relieve a man to have an internal stomach-ache to cure his tooth ache. There is no doubt that the pain produced in the stomach would cause a fellow to forget for the time being he had any kind of a disturbance in his jaw.

Such was the case with the cow and the diseased tail. It is quite likely the pain produced by the lard and pepper caused her to forget her digestive disturbances in order to give whole attention to the misery produced by the salt and pepper. When the pain subsided and nature asserted her relationship as a doctor and corrected the disturbance in the digestive tract, the fellow who introduced the pain in the poor old cow's tail claimed the credit for saving her life.

There is no disease mentioned in standard veterinary literature that is described or treated as "Wolf in the Tail" or "Hollow Tail."

When the tail of a sick cow is normal let it alone and find out if possible what ails the animal and administer the proper treatment. Such a procedure will be more profitable to the owner and will cause the sick cow less unnecessary annoyance.

Methods Sales

Ring Improved

There was a time when the "sales ring" was in bad repute, and the public was a few bits suspicious of the offerings. And well they might be cautious for often animals bought at public auction were bawny, tuberculous, or poor producers. Now things have changed and the public sale is rapidly becoming a most important factor in the exchange of purebred livestock. Through this medium of sale, not only has the number of animals offered for sale increased but also has the price increased from $5 to $100 per cent. This would indicate that both buyers and sellers are satisfied. The best breeders of the country have put the public auction on a sound footing by offering good stock only, together with a guarantee that such stock is free from disease, thus safeguarding both buyer and seller.

It has been a long time since the fall spraying season has been so late. The spraying season is now well under way and the spraying outfit and check book is ready to see that every thing is in working order. Some small part may be missing or broken and at times this means a delay of three or four weeks till the old part is fixed or a new part arrives.

It is a good idea to be sure you have a contract, see the contractor now. If you postpone it perhaps you will be unable to get your spraying done at the price you want. The contractor is now in your own hands. The contract time to begin spraying is just after the leaves fall and continue until the first of November. After the first of November spraying for the control of light is not advocated.

The best fall spray for the control of light consists of the common kerosene emulsion, 1 or 2 pounds lime, and 20 pounds water. Two spraying, fall and spring, should be given. The fall spray is for to prevent the light in the coming year's crop. The fall spray is for to prevent the light in the coming year's crop. Regulating for the coming spraying season will begin on October 1st. All owners of operations should register at that time and all certificates during the last year must be renewed.

Purebloods at the Fair

Jerseys, Holstein-Friesians, Ayrshires and milking Shorthorns represented the dairy industry at the Fresno District Fair in strong competition for first honors in all classes. Most of the herds had exhibited at the State Fair and with Fresno County contribution, much better competition was added to the prize winners.

The Holstein-Friesians. The black and white cattle were exhibited by H. L. Holmes, Harry Hill and Santa Maria Stock Farm. The majority of the blues going to H. L. Holmes of Modesto, with the blue going to H. L. Holmes for senior and regular champion bull and junior regular champion bull and junior regular champion bull and junior regular champion bull.

The Jerseys. J. E. Thorpe, Guy Miller and A. A. Jenkins divided honors for the Jersey prizes. J. E. Thorpe taking the blue for champion bull, A. A. Jenkins, blue for champion bull, Guy Miller, junior champion bull, and J. E. Thorpe, reserve champion bull. In the yearling class, senior reserve champion, went to J. E. Thorpe, junior and reserve junior cow to Guy Miller.

The Ayrshires. E. R. McFarland took all honors in the Ayrshire class, but strong competition among his own entries. In first and second place gave the spectators an ample opportunity to study the breed and see them at their best.

Milking Shorthorns. J. S. Weaver and J. A. Murphy heads fought for honors in the dual service class, with the balance in favor of the J. S. Weaver herd. Good top cattle were plentiful and the judge had about as much work in this class as one could desire to pick the winners.

Special Dairy Herd Prize. Each dairy herd consisting of one bull and the following number of cows: one bull over two years, four females over three, one bull under two years and three females under three. First prize, E. L. Holmes with the Holsteins; second prize, E. R. McFarland with the Ayrshires and third prize, J. E. Thorpe with the Jerseys.

With the many counter attractions going on at the fair, the cattle judge held his own for interest throughout the day.

It is a common mistake to think the fly is a pest. It is a pest only in the sense that it is a pest to the farmer. It is a pest to the farmer because it is a pest to the farmer.

A palatable looking meal is not at all inviting to one accustomed to eating wholesome food when fine face seen walking over the victims, disfiguring their wares from accumulations of filth.

The spots on woodwork, food, and all other places visited by the fly indicate that its whole existence is occupied in contaminating everything on which it may chance to alight.

The second method of transmission of disease by the fly is direct inoculation that is, by the bite of the insect. In this manner it injects directly into the system disease producing organisms.

It is useless to attempt to exterminate the fly as long as its breeding areas exist. Therefore, in order to suppress or exterminate this pest, accumulations of waste must be avoided, garbage handled properly, open privies made fly-proof, and all carcasses buried or preferably burned.

HOUSTON IS FINE PLACE FOR BABIES

NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—America's baby crop in 1932 was a new record says the American Child Hygiene Association.

An annual preliminary report on vital statistics by that organization, covering data from 200 cities with an aggregate population of 31,000,000 shows the infant mortality rate declined to the "astonishing" figure of 27 deaths per 1,000 babies, a saving of nearly 12,000 babies over the 1931 rate and 190,000 deaths than in 1917.

In the cities covered by the report, 650,000 births were recorded, while in the entire country it is estimated there are 2,600,000 new-borns annually. All of the cities included have populations of 10,000 or more.

Babies seemed to thrive well in some of the larger cities, where, formerly, the death rate was very high. Among the 21 cities of more than 250,000 population reported, ten were below the average for the 200 and the death rate for the group was 25, two points below the general average.

"Ten years ago," the report said, "it was the aim of many a department of health to save this rate fall below the 100 mark. In 1919, only four of the twenty-four larger cities were above it."

One of these was Pittsburgh, the "Smoky City," where the rate was 116. Buffalo with 167, Kansas City, Mo., with 163 and Jersey City, N. J., with 162 were the others.

Houston, Texas, was the best baby-making ground among the cities of more than 100,000 and less than 250,000 with a mark of 61. Berkeley, Cal., had a baby mortality rate of 41 while Brooklyn, N. Y., with a population of less than 50,000 but all the rest with the healthy percentage of 40.

TACOMA, Wash., Oct. 2.—Efforts to introduce more "animal" dances, such as the fox trot, the "cat step," the "canal waltz" and the "fish wiggler" into the Pacific northwest are being opposed by professional dancing masters according to P. P. Sloan, Tacoma dancing teacher. "Animal" dances are cut-throat of the fox trot, Mr. Sloan said recently. And the fox trot, he added, has nothing to do with an animal, for it is a dance devised by a dancing instructor named Fox.

New York City registered 52, 51, 49, 48 and 47, Los Angeles and San Francisco 57 and 56, respectively, Minneapolis 61 and Seattle 61.

El Paso, Texas, had the worst showing with 242. Burlington, Vt., was next with 159. El Paso, however, is not in a birth registration area, according to the report.

26 500 000 WOMEN ENTITLED TO VOTE

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—Figures compiled by the census bureau and other government departments indicate that the number of women in the United States over 21 years of age is 26,500,000, of whom approximately 25,000,000 are eligible to vote in the November election. This estimate makes it clear that women are not available to the number of women over 21 has been barred from voting through various reasons. Census bureau officials have, however, that this year at least 1,000,000 of the 2,250,000 foreign-born women in the United States will not yet have become naturalized. In addition, there were in 1910, according to the census about 50,000 Indian women, most of whom were living on reservations. 8,477 Chinese and Japanese women ineligible to vote, a comparatively small number of American women married to aliens and barred from voting for that reason and a larger number deprived of the ballot under state statutes in harmony with constitutional provisions. The total of these ineligible was estimated at about 1,500,000.

American women married to aliens are not eligible to vote, the Department of Justice has held, but foreign-born women married to American citizens of whose fathers has become American citizens are entitled to the ballot without naturalization proceedings.

The number of eligible male voters in the United States this year has been determined. Based on an estimated population of 105,000,000, however, the census bureau figured that there are now 34,800,000 men in the United States over 21 years of age of whom probably 31,000,000 would be entitled to vote in November.

SEVEN LEASES FOR VAN NESS

Business District Swelled By Number New Concerns

The rush for all kinds of business locations in Fresno was marked during the past week by the signing of seven new leases in two blocks on Van Ness avenue. One of these was the building recently occupied by the First National bank, at 250 Van Ness. This has been leased for a term of years by Leroy M. St. John, former restaurant owner of Spokane, who will open a restaurant there under the name of the La Fonda about November 1.

In announcing this, Mrs. L. St. John, also announced leases on four newly remodeled corners at Van Ness and Mariposa with a seat drink place, and Stevens & Whittemore, auto tires and accessories, in the same block.

Other recent leases include Garman & Hammond, occupying the newly remodeled corner at Van Ness and Mariposa with a seat drink place, and Stevens & Whittemore, auto tires and accessories, in the same block.

Chas. Kimball Young will be offered a lease on a building under the new regime will be a limitation of John D. Ford.

TURKEY PUTS TAX ON PAINTED HOUSES

CONSTANTINOPLE, Oct. 2.—The new Turkish tax on painted houses is a serious one. Most of the houses are wooden and unpainted. This is not a condition growing out of the war. The short-sighted policy of the government in imposing taxes on buildings in proportion to the brightness of their exteriors has encouraged shabbiness.

Even in Constantinople a large percentage of the residences and many of the business houses are of wood. Many of the large apartment houses and office buildings have been built of stone, but wooden sides and backs. Hence the disastrous fires which have laid more than one-third of the city in ashes since the beginning of the war, and the general terror of the population when a fire alarm sounds.

Constantinople and most other Turkish cities would doubtless have been destroyed by fire long ago were it not that the sturdy wooden and semi-wooden buildings have the roofs. These roofs of bright red tile are in striking contrast to the dingy grey walls, red roofs and stained by the weather.

In the past Turkish tax assessors frequently imposed taxes as high as a rate upon a well-painted house as that located upon an unpainted house of exactly the same construction in a similar locality.

Sander's Disc Plow

This is a new plow that can use a 24 or 28 inch disc on the same frame—also adjusted for either a 6, 8 or 10 in. furrow—or can be broken down to a two or three bottom plow. Has cone shape disc bearing hardened drill with one bolt, large grease ways and cups. The big feature about this disc plow is the angle that the discs make. This feature alone makes it in such great demand.

Superior Drill

—The thing to think about now is as to how you will plant your Winter and your summer fallow grain.

—You know that seed and labor are both high this year and this makes it imperative that you can not tolerate inefficient planting. Every intensive farmer knows that the Superior way to plant all grain and fertilizer is with a Superior drill. These Superior drills are recognized as being the best and strongest of any drill on the market. They have a non-sag one piece steel frame. You can't clog a Superior double run force grain seed and the grain tubes are not made of rubber but of telescoping steel.

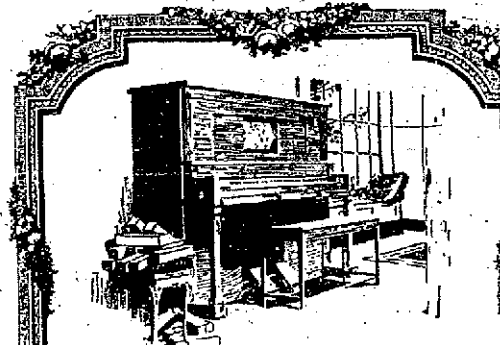

—This machine is built for hard work and will do it.

—New and improved oiling device, requires oiling but once a year.

—Built in 6, 8, 10 and 12 foot sizes for horses or tractor.

Your player piano: what is inside?

"Bargains," so-called, are constantly being offered in player pianos. But how do you know what is INSIDE the brightly polished case? Under present conditions the price of new player pianos must start at $695 to receive the Sherman, Clay & Co. guarantee—a guarantee that means something. The best answer we know to the layman's question, "what's inside the case?" is the guarantee that stands back of the case. It is far, far better to pay a slight difference for a GOOD piano than to pay nearly as much for a so-called "bargain."
